BOY, 14, KILLS COMPANION, 11

Slays Weaker, Younger Lad To Prove "He's No Sissy."

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, N J, Sept 15—A 14-year-old school pupil was held today for the slaying of an 11-year-old companion whom the FBI said he admitted garroting with a leather belt in an abandoned warehouse because he wanted to prove himself "no sissy"

The FBI said the boy, Fred Walter Smigelski, signed a statement telling how he had planned to kill someone to assert his superiority in the face of his mother's continual demands that he wash dishes, dust furniture and do assorted household chores

Smigelski was held without charge at the parental home in Bayonne.

The body of the younger boy John Preston Jr, of Kearny was found yesterday in the old warehouse, in nearby Harrison, a leather belt tightened about his neck and several gashes on his chest and wrist The statement quoted Smigelski as saying he selected the Preston boy as his victim because he was certain he was weaker than himself and could be subdued easily.

Admits Slaying

The FBI said the boy admitted the slaying after he had been brought to headquarters here by his father, Walter Smigelski a lathe operator whose suspicions had been aroused by a copy of a kidnap ransom note found by Mrs Smigelski yesterday morning in the pocket of one of the boy's trousers.

A similar note, crudely scrawled and asking $1,000 ransom, had been received by the victim's parents, Mr. and Mrs John Preston Sr, in the mail Saturday morning, some 12 hours after the boy was reported missing

"If you want your son black alive you get 1,000 one thous," the note said "Bring a clean shirt, pants shoes underware and a good supporter a small one that will fit him tight he has a slight case of rupture we did it he'll have worst it you don't do as we say don't trust anyone wrap everything nice ina paper bag the 1,000 and clothes you see a boy stand on First st and Sussex st there will be a boy there he'll know nothing he just a hired boy do ask any questions give it to him don't go to the police or we'll k ll him just do as we say cross up (two scrambled lines followed crossed out and illegible) one one of these five words and you have his boy for nothing

Boy Hanged In Fall at Play

Body Found by Brother in Granary of Morrow Co. Farm Home.

Special to The Star

MT GILEAD Sept 15—A 12-year-old boy was found hanging in a granary on his father's farm near here yesterday afternoon

Philip Richard LaRoche, son of Mr and Mrs W R LaRoche was found dead by his brother William at about 3 p m. after his family had missed him

The LaRoches live on a farm about four miles south of Mt Gilead on route 61

Dr. Frank Sweeny, Mt Gilead coroner, withheld his verdict as to the nature of the hanging, but Harry Curl Cardington funeral director, said "there is no question but that the hanging was accidental."

Was Playing Alone

The boy, playing alone in the combination granary and wagon shed, fell through a trap door in the grain loft entangled in a rope. The rope had a slip knot tied in it. The boy's body showed rope burns on the side. Curl said, and part of his shirt was caught in the rope, indicating that when he fell the rope had slipped up to his neck, choking him The boy's father said that he had tied the slip knot in the rope and used it in work

Marion Co. Youth Nominated For American Farmer Degree

Paul L. Dasher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dasher of Grand Prairie township, has been recommended by the national board of trustees and the National Future Farmers of America advisory council for the American Farmer Degree, according to a recent letter received by State Supervisor R. A. Howard from W. T. Spanton, who is national F. F. A. advisor and chief of agricultural education service. This degree, the highest which may be granted by the national association, will be conferred upon Paul and seven other Ohio farm boys in Kansas City at the time of the National F. F. A. convention Oct. 20 to 22.

Basis for the award consists of an outstanding farming program, satisfactory scholarship, and strong leadership qualities as indicated by school and community activities.

Attended Morral School

Paul enrolled as a sophomore at Morral school in the fall of 1941 after completing one year of high school training at Grand Prairie school. His initial farming program consisted of a purebred sow and litter, 20 acres of soybeans and farm account records. As a junior he purchased one-half interest in the home herd of seven brood sows, grew corn instead of soybeans, took over the management of the dairy herd of 18 cows, and continued with farm accounts. That year Paul won the Kroger award for completing the most productive farm program among all F. F. A. boys in district No. 8, which includes Union, Delaware, Morrow and Mar-

5,000 on Hand for Model Airplane Event at Airport

More than 5,000 spectators were on hand yesterday at the Municipal airport to witness Marion's first large-scale model airplane meet. The contest was acclaimed a success by both contestants and spectators although a strong breeze from the southwest caused innumerable crackups and carried many planes quickly out of sight, preventing the establishment of any record flights

A number of the planes which soared from view were picked up and returned to the field while the meet was in progress However, by 7 o'clock Sunday evening, 18 models were still on the missing list These planes will be in fields northeast of the airport and may have crashed up to 25 miles before coming to rest The longest flights reported up until last night were for planes which had been found between Oceola and Bucyrus Contest officials urged those persons finding model planes to take them to the Monarch Printing and Supply Co at 231 West Center street in Marion Arrangements will then be made to return the models to their respective owners

200 Contestants

Contestants began to arrive Saturday and totaled approximately 200 when the registration was closed at 2 p m Sunday Model airplane clubs from Ohio Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Pennsylvania were present Detroit, Mich Indianapolis, Ind, Meadville, Pa, and Cleveland, were exceptionally well represented.

John Hilleges, Northern Ohio Coordinator for the Academy of Model Aeronautics, complimented the Y's Men and the Marion Prop Busters for conducting an excellent model meet. He and Mrs Hilleges drove to Marion from Cleveland and aided in supervising the contest and tabulating the results

Flavis Schmidt 40, from Erie, Pa., was acknowledged to be the oldest contestant in the meet He is a well-known modeler and has attended meets weekly since the season opened early in the spring In his opinion the Marion meet was the most outstanding affair he has attended this year with the exception of the Detroit International contest This latter meet was held in Detroit recently with operating expenses approximating $140 000 He stated that the smooth and efficient handling of the Marion meet compared favorably with the Detroit contest.

Other Veterans Here

Other veteran modelers who competed were James Cahill of Connersville, Ind, two-time holder of the Wakefield International Trophy, Dick Kordal, Cleveland, present holder of the Wakefield Trophy, having won it in 1939; George Reich of Cleveland, who placed first in the rubber stick and fuselage events at the 1946 Nationals in Wichita, Kan, and Sal Taibi of Indianapolis, formerly of the New York City 'Skyscrapers' Club' Taibi is famed for his flight of over 60 minutes in the 1941 Chicago Nationals and is noted for his many successful model airplane designs. At present he is associated with the NACA which is a government experiment aircraft department.

The Freeman Flying Service provided "blow-down" facilities for those contestants who wished to retrieve planes which had soared from view. Following the meet A. A Freeman flew a number of meet spectators over Marion city in cabin planes based at the city port

Capt. Dan MacGovern and Corp Charles Michaels of the U. S Army Air Corps were present in an unofficial status filming moving pictures of the day's events Capt MacGovern, who is from the Air University, Maxwell Field, Ala., stated that he and a Capt. William Arnold were collaborating on a commercial release to be tentatively titled "Air Minded America" The picture is designed to show the wide spread interest that model aircraft holds today and will be released within the next four to six months.

At the close of the contest Richard Myers, President of the Y's Men and R. D. Blank, contest director, presented awards totaling over $1,000 in value. In most events, prizes were given to the first eight places with trophies,

BURGLARS LOOT CLUBS OF $1000

Eagles and Elks Lodge Rooms Broken Into at Upper Sandusky.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Sept 15—Burglars early Sunday broke into the Elks and Eagles clubs here and got away with more than $1 000 plus 70 cartons of cigarets several boxes of cigars and a dozen quarts of whisky, Police Chief C. A Kirchner revealed today.

At the Elks club which suffered the largest loss, an estimated $700 was taken in addition to the cigars, cigarets and liquor. Eagles club officials counted $300 missing, Chief Kirchner said.

State highway patrol fingerprint men from Findlay and Wyandot county sheriff's department men are assisting police in the investigation Footprints found on checks discarded by the burglars at the Elks club tally with those found in an empty box car on the Pennsylvania railroad siding near the Walton and Myers elevator here, the police said.

One Man Released

A suspect for which an alarm had been sent out yesterday over the police radio was picked up in Carey later in the day and released after being questioned by the police

Discovery of the burglary at the Elks was made by Frank Duffield, club steward, about 8 a m yesterday The front door of the club which is located on Wyandot avenue at the eastern edge of the village had been pried open, Duffield said The burglars in looting the place had taken mostly cash kept in the club strongboxes while discarding checks on which the footprints were found.

The two burglaries are believed by police to be linked as footprints found at the Eagles club tallied with some of those found at the Elks The footprints indicated several were in the group, one of whom had a very small foot, police discovered.

Enter by Second Story

Entrance at the Eagles club was made through a second story window at the rear of the building, officers said. A small shed at the rear served as a means of reaching the second story level where the screen had been cut and the window jimmied to effect an entrance. The $300 taken was removed from a safe in the club secretary's office. The safe had been forced open but not "blown," Chief Kirchner said. The burglars did not enter the main part of the club downstairs, it was reported. Discovery was made by J. C. Lind, club steward, about 6 p. m. The club had been open for several hours before any one had had occasion to enter the secretary's office, club officials told police.

Both clubs reported the presence of more than the usual number of guests during last week when the Wyandot county fair was being held. As the burglars evidently knew where the strongboxes at the Elks club were hid, officials are of the opinion that the clubs may have been "cased" previous to the burglary, perhaps during the past week.

CRIPPS IS WINNER OF CLASS B TITLE

Defeats Paul Schwemley 1 Up for Club Crown.

Robert Cripps defeated Paul Schwemley 1 up for the Country Club class B championship yesterday.

The two golfers are friends of long standing and often golf together in non-tourney play.

Despite this friendship the competition for the title was keen, Cripps winning on the last hole.

The first nine holes were even all the way, Cripps going 2 up by winning the tenth and eleventh holes. Schwemley came back and won the thirteenth and fourteenth and the match was even for the next three holes.

Then on the eighteenth green Cripps sank his ball in five shots, while Schwemley needed six. Both got to the green in three strokes.

A strong wind yesterday made golfing difficult for both players and dry weather making the ground hard caused the balls to take some unusual rolls.

Secretary Tells Columbus Vet Convention 400,000-Man Force Is Basic.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Sept 15- W Stuart Symington assistant secretary of war for air, said today the American Air Force had estimated its minumum need as a "70-group force, in instant readiness quirring an overall strength of approximately 400,000 officers and men

In a speech prepared for delivery before the first national convention of the Air Force association, Symington said this figure has not yet been accomplished'

Earlier, the resolutions committee of the association whose membership includes Air Force Veterans of World Wars I and II declared that veterans had "learned with regret and shame that our Air Force is now woefully unprepared to serve as the nation's first line of defense

Face Compromise

Symington told the veterans that "we must face the constant compromise between what military authority considers necessary on the basis of maximum security and what is finally decided as the minimum requirement on the basis of calculated risk."

"This must be the case," he went on, "because the maintenance year after year of armed forces certain to be adequate to handle any emergency would be such a constant drain upon the American economy as to destroy the American way of life just as surely as would conquest from without.

There is a reasonable minimum, however, below which we cannot go without not only gravely leopardizing our national security, but also abdicating our position of world leadership.

"In arriving at this reasonable minimum, we must also seek a judicious balance between the three components of the armed forces. Air, sea and land forces are mutually supporting and mutually interdependent.

SLASH IN USE OF FOOD URGED

Rationing Called Only Way To Aid Europe; Truman Faces Tough Decision.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept 15 Undersecretary of Agriculture Norris E Dodd said today voluntary rationing of food in this country appears to be the only way to avert famine abroad and prevent the collapse of friendly Europe in governments.

He said such rationing should perhaps take these two forms

► A reduction by housewives in the purchase of livestock products such as meat, milk, butter, eggs and poultry

► A reduction by farmers in feeding of grain to livestock, particularly the use of less wheat for feed

Dodd, who is acting as secretary in the absence of Secretary Anderson from Washington, said that the government does not have the power to impose formal rationing or restrictions on use of foods and grains

Voluntary rationing has been suggested by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and Chester Davis, former war food administrator and chairman of the President's famine emergency council.

Prospects "Not Pleasant"

"It is not pleasant to think what may happen to a lot of people this winter, if we don't get food to them," Dodd said.

He said "the present governments in western Europe would not last long if we withheld supplies from them."

President Truman is due home from Rio this week to face the decision whether a special session of congress should be called to supply emergency aid to Europe. His top advisers appear to be split on the subject.

EITHER, BOTH SUGGESTED AS CHARGES FLY

Taft Advises, "Eat Less;" Poor People Will Have To, Sabath Retorts.

By The Associated Press

The soaring cost of foods which today has caused housewives throughout the country to protest, is due either to a glut of American exports or to high food prices, or both

Asserting the flow of American exports is much too great, Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio) suggested however, that high food prices could be remedied if people would eat less extravagantly" He added that exports can't go on at the rate of $15 billion dollars a year without having an effect on prices"

Rep Sabath (D-Ill), countered that only the poor people, who are unable to pay high food prices, must restrict their eating — not Senator Taft 'and his wealthy friends" Instead, Sabath proposed government anti-trust investigations be broadened to include five major groups which he charged are "responsible for the ever-increasing high cost of living"

Names Five Groups

In a letter to Attorney General Clark, the 81-year-old dean of the house listed the five as meat packing, dairy products exchanges, "fertilizer trust" and "the few men who manipulate the board of trade"

He added that it also would be well to give some attention to the textile and wearing apparel manufacturing industries"

As Sabath made public his letter in Washington, a joint congressional subcommittee was preparing to open an investigation of food prices in the first of a series of public hearings at Providence, R I

The department of agriculture reports that for every six bushels of wheat consumed in the United States during the first six months of this year, four bushels were sent overseas and added that these exports "materially strengthened prices"

Although corn was at a record high price "largely because of the crop outlook," the department said, it reported that the world will produce slightly more bread-grain in 1947 than in 1946 The report added, however, that European import needs will be even larger than last season

From mid-August to mid-September The Associated Press weighted wholesale commodity price index of 35 basic commodities rose from 167.48 to a record high of 194.98.

Results of Survey

An Associated Press survey of the retail price of eight staple foods in 13 key cities in all sections of the nation showed the following average changes and prices from those for the same foods in the same cities a month earlier:

Bacon, up four cents a pound to 84 cents; pork chops up three cents to 80 cents; round steak, up three cents to 86 cents, bread unchanged; butter up 12 cents a pound to 90 cents, eggs up 14 cents a dozen to 80 cents; milk up one cent a quart to 20 cents; tomatoes, No. 2 can, two cents to 16 cents.

The highest price for bacon was 93 cents a pound in Seattle and St. Louis. Philadelphians paid the top price, 99 cents a pound, for round steak, while pork chops brought the top of 90 to 93 cents at St. Louis.

Butter brought the nation's top price of $1 a pound at St. Louis, and eggs were 95 cents a dozen in New York and Philadelphia. Atlanta had the highest milk price, 22 cents a quart.

Rickenbacker Urges Air Force Capable of Blanketing World

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Sept. 15—Eddie Rickenbacker told American Air Force veterans today to demand that congress appropriate money "to give this country an Air Force so strong and powerful that it could reach virtually any part of the globe within 24 hours—should the emergency demand."

The World War I ace, in a speech prepared for the Air Force association's first annual convention which is being held in his native Columbus, declared "the world looks to me like a time bomb."

"A live time bomb," he added, that flicks warning of explosive danger from Russia's influence — from Italy to India — from Czechoslovakia to China — from Hungary to Korea—from Poland to Persia—and from Jerusalem to Japan."

Rickenbacker, now president of Eastern Air Lines, Inc., asserted the Kremlin "is inclined to attack only the dead and dying—not the living and strong."

Fears No Russ War

"For that reason," he said, "I am not afraid of any impending war with Russia unless we fail to make ourselves so strong through preparedness that Russia or any of its satellites would not dare drop the first bomb for fear of swift and sweeping reprisals."

Rickenbacker urged the newly formed association to help shape the future "not as veterans with a group interest, but as veterans united for a constructive patriotic purpose."

"We must prepare," he declared,

$1-per-Pound Butter Knocking Bottom from Other Markets

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15—The president of a steel company testified before the U. S. senate that at least one firm's electric refrigerators were piling up in warehouses. His implication was that most folks faced with buying shoes today for the kids, and meat and milk, couldn't afford fancy ice boxes.

The distributors of one nationally-known radio advertised "$100 trade-in allowance on your old set, regardless of age, make or condition." This brought the price of the super-duper AN-FM phonograph combination in the mahogany console down from $289 to $169.

Another equally well-known radio dropped from $375 to $187.50, with no trade-in hocus-pocus and 15 months to pay. A leading jeweler advertised for the first time since the war: "Generous allowance for your old watch in trade for a new one." Trick deals of many varieties brought the price of automobile tires almost everywhere to pre-war levels.

Indicate Wind Direction

Federal feelers of the business pulse said these and similar developments were straws all right, indicating direction of the economic winds. It was a little early to be making any flat predictions about slumps, or even to let me quote 'em by name, they added, but still they felt that $1-a-pound butter wasn't doing business any good.

So for what they're worth I'd like to list a few punctures in the inflation balloon which have made hissing noises in my own ears: they may not mean much yet—and still again they might:

My photo-fan brother in St. Louis a while back came home, lugging a deluxe picture enlarger for his darkroom, plus considerable other expensive photographic equipment. He'd bought the whole load at exactly half price. The dealer, with whom he'd long done business, had phoned to say his store was so full of merchandise and he was so pressed for cash that he was offering his old customers 50 per cent discounts on everything in stock. He told my brother it was this, or bankruptcy.

Wholesale Boys Return

The "I can get it for you wholesale" operators were springing up everywhere. Some of them actually delivered; one at least produced two famous-make table model radios at $17 each, instead of the $34 advertised price.

A fellow reporter, as pleased as he was dazed by what had happened to him, showed me a gift he'd bought for his wife—a handbag of cobra skin, manufactured by a celebrated maker, and bearing his label with a suggested retail price of $55. It was a beauty; my friend bought it from one of the firm's salesmen for $18. Not since the thirties have I run across any similar salesmen's sample bargains.

The ladies' coats of mouton, a fancy name for processed sheepskin which sold so widely last year for $150, were going this season for less than $100. The Chicagoan who made a sudden fortune with the first ball-point fountain pen at $12.50 a copy, was trying to sell his factory. It now turns out pens at 59 cents each.

So long as a medium-good hamburger sandwich costs 40 cents I won't be wanting any of the above mentioned merchandise, myself. And that's the trouble, claim my anonymous economists. Nobody will.

ERIE PRESIDENT ASKS HIGHER RATES

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 — Spokesman for the nation's railroads say the carriers must be granted higher freight rates to modernize equipment to meet the "ever-growing" competition from trucks and airlines.

Robert E. Woodruff, Cleveland, president of the Erie railroad told an interstate commerce commission freight rate hearing that the railroads now are "not receiving a fair living wage."

Woodruff said the railroads are earning less than half the amount they should to meet their obligations to the public.

The ICC is holding hearings on the railroads' request for an immediate interim 10 per cent increase in freight rates, pending final action on their request for an over-all average 27 per cent boost.

Woodruff said that to meet competition "railroads must continue to modernize and adequate earnings are required for such purposes."

Present earnings, estimated at 2.68 per cent on the capital investment, are inadequate, he said.

"No industry can long survive and fulfill its obligations to the public in an efficient manner under such low earnings." The Erie official said

Mr. Woodruff is a former Marion man, having served as superintendent of the Erie's Kent division here a number of years ago.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning
That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Aged Ashley Woman Critically Injured

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, Sept. 15—Mrs. Jacob Barton, 82, of Ashley, is in poor condition in Jane M. Case hospital, Delaware, after being struck by a hit-skip driver while crossing the street in front of her home in Ashley at 7:20 p. m. yesterday.

According to Delaware county Sheriff Earl Fravel, Mrs. Barton was crossing South Franklin street from her parked car on the west side to her home on the east side when hit by a northbound car. The traffic was heavy, Fravel said.

Mrs. Barton suffered a fractured left leg, chest injuries, an injured right shoulder, and abrasions on her face. Taken to the Jane M. Case hospital in a C. R. Lee ambulance, where her condition today was reported to be "critical" by hospital authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton will celebrate their sixty-second wedding anniversary in November. Their home on South Franklin street is just south of the corporation line in Ashley.

Four Hurt as Car Crashes Into Tree

Four Marion men were injured, one seriously, when the car in which they were riding crashed into a tree at 2 a. m. Sunday on the Sawyer road, state patrolmen reported.

Driver was Paul Edward Pine, 29, of 808 Silver street who suffered a chest injury. Other occupants were Eugene Pine, 28, of 567 Thompson street and Leroy Pine, 34, of 808 Silver street, brothers of the driver. Eugene suffered a severely lacerated mouth and nose, Leroy a fractured back, Kenneth Haws, 36, of 576 Herman street, who was treated for numerous abrasions and cuts about the face and legs, also was in the car. All except Leroy Pine were treated at City hospital and released. He is reported to be in "fairly good" condition today. The car, headed east on the Sawyer road, was demolished, patrolmen said.

Boy Escapes Injury As Car Hits Bike

Franklin Hall, 14, of the Veterans Housing unit escaped injury when he was knocked from his bicycle by a car driven by William E. Delaudier, 28, of 582 East Mark street Saturday night on Garden street and Holmes place, city police reported.

Delaudier told police he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car and he was unable to see the bicycle until it was too late to avoid the collision. The car was making a left turn from Garden street to Holmes place when the accident happened. Only minor damage resulted to the front of the bicycle.

Suggestions Save

The War Department reports it has saved an estimated $174,513,020 during the last four years by adopting economy suggestions of employes.

The department said $1,856,167 in awards had been given to employes whose savings proposals were accepted. The awards were based on estimated savings to be made during the first year of a plan's operations and ranged from $5 to more than $6,000. The department said 348,302 suggestions had been made since the program was started in September, 1943. Of these, 61,179 were put into effect.

CIO Criticizes Arms Training

Labor Convention Holds Military Preparedness Leads Only to Bloody Clashes.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Sept. 15—Universal military training was opposed today by the ninth annual convention of the Ohio CIO council because it was feared that an "international race of armaments inevitably leads to bloody clashes."

In a resolution adopted yesterday, the delegates declared that history "fails to disclose the too often presumed fact that vast armies are a prerequisite to peace."

"There is compelling historic evidence," the resolution went on, "that the building of armies and the resultant international race of armaments inevitably leads to bloody clashes of arms."

Elaborating on this thesis, Jack Kroll, council president and convention chairman, said:

"I do not believe there is a man or woman in America who wants to see this country rendered defenseless. On the other hand, the labor movement has always been suspicious of the military."

"The military man who has a new weapon wants to see how it works."

A favorite target of several speakers during the convention, which ends today, has been Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), and his name came up repeatedly in a talk by James B. Carey, national CIO-secretary treasurer.

"The people of Ohio should demand that Taft be recalled from congress and condemned to the worst kind of punishment that can be meted out to one of his type—to work for a living," said Carey.

He continued:

"Let's get down to brass tacks and ask Taft if he has not adopted the program of the National Association of Manufacturers. I believe the American people deserve and shoud have a better type of congress than the 80th. That was the best congress that money can buy."

It is estimated that between fifty and a hundred million people died of smallpox alone in the 17th century.

Walter Johnson, Former Prospect Resident, Dies

PROSPECT, Sept. 15—Walter Y. "Park" Johnson, 68, native of Prospect township, died Saturday in Denver, Col., where he had made his home the last 50 years. Death followed a long illness. While in Prospect Mr. Johnson was a baker for the former Sauer bakery, and until the time of his death, he was a contract salesman out of Denver. Born Feb. 28, 1878, he was a son of George W. and Hannah Catherine Weber Johnson.

His wife, Mrs. Lola Zanoni Johnson, died 15 years ago. Surviving are a step-daughter, Geraldine Tarpley of Bolford, Ia., and a brother and sisters, Arthur E. Johnson and Mrs. Cora Redefer, both of Prospect, Mrs. Ollie Sauer of Marion, Mrs. Zaye Pace of Yonkers, N. Y., and Mrs. Margaret Hershey of Ashley. Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Gehm funeral home here by Rev. Edgar W. Guinther, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed church. Burial will be at Prospect.

LIVESTOCK CO-OP COMMITTEE TO MEET

Advisory Group To Head Session Here Tuesday.

Advisory committees of the Producers Livestock Cooperative association, representing markets at Marion, Bucyrus, Mt. Vernon, Coshocton and Cleveland, will hold their first meeting Tuesday at the Eagles hall here according to Robert Bradley, manager of the local market.

These committees, Mr. Bradley explained, were established to consider the operations of the associations, and to make suggestions to the officers and management for improving the marketing of livestock.

In addition to the committee members, it is expected that F. C. Kelner of Columbus, general manager of the co-op, and others from the central office, and livestock specialists from Ohio State university will take part in the discussions.

Advisory committee members for the Marion yards are Don Foos of Prospect, chairman; Forest Loudenslager of Marion, vice chairman; Oscar Murphy of Morral, Willard Davidson and Walter A. Mautz of Marion, Frank Heimlich of Cardington, Forest Cates of New Bloomington and Beaver Bricker of Green Camp.

Nine hundred thousand square miles of Russia were planted with mines and shells and booby-traps by the German Invaders.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

PARKS OR COW PASTURES?

Editor of The Star: I have read in The Star at different times about groups from Marion going to Harrison Smith park, Upper Sandusky, on picnic parties. I have been informed it is a wonderful place for such parties and I haven't decided yet whether it tickled me or disgusted me a few nights ago when I read about the Marion courthouse officers and employes going there for their picnic. Not that they aren't entitled to go on picnics and have a good time like anyone else, but what burns me up is that Marion city or county has no place for their own people to go on picnics, only what the state-highway department put along the highways at Waldo, Brush Ridge and a few other places.

I have been living in Marion 35 years and the three patches of woods that are called parks in our city are not nearly as good as they were 35 years ago, because the trees are that much older and a large number of them are falling each year due to storms and bad condition of the trees.

In all these years there have been very few improvements made. Instead of keeping the grass mowed with lawn mowers, it is cut about twice through the summer with a farm mowing machine, consequently making it impossible to walk or sit any place except on the drives on account of the stubbles. Then there aren't any benches to sit on, so what good are they as parks?

During the past hot weather there were pictures in papers of other cities of people going to the parks, even sleeping there when it was more comfortable than in their homes. How about sleeping in one of our so-called parks?

Another thing that does not help any is the way the leaves have been disposed of the past several years, waiting until thy have mostly fallen after the frost and setting the whole place on fire. You don't see farmers set their woods on fire every year, because they know they won't have any trees in a few years after burning the trunks while burning the leaves.

I think it's about time Marion got a live wire park commission and if they don't do more than the present gang get rid of them and get some one that will.

I also think it would be a good idea for the county commissioners to have a park out in the county where our neighbors from surrounding counties could come and have a good time like our people have been having in Wyandot county.

How about you citizens of Marion? Do you want parks or cow pastures?

Canton Editor Resigns To Accept New Position

By Brush-Moore News Service

CANTON, Sept. 15—Edmund C. Hamilton, managing editor of the Canton Repository since October, 1946, has resigned to accept a position as associate publisher and director of the news department of the Monroe (Wis.) Evening Times.

At Monroe, he will be associated with Emery A. O'Dell, founder and president of the Times.

Mr. Hamilton, a native of Chicago, started newspaper work in Fort Wayne, Ind. He worked on newspapers in Springfield, O., before joining the Repository in May, 1930. His resignation became effective Saturday. He will leave in the near future to assume his new duties. Mrs. Hamilton will join him in Monroe later. The Hamiltons have one son, Frank, who entered West Point military academy last month.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Skin Ills

Since nearly everybody knows from experience what a lot or discomfort a single boil can cause it doesn't take a great deal of imagination to understand the plight of those who have skin disorders which cause whole crops of these unsightly sores.

In the past, little enough could be done directly to clear up such infections, but today it looks as if penicillin, the wonder drug to which we owe so much in other fields, will also give as a quick and simple way of dealing with many of these trouble makers.

One of these, folliculitis of the beard, is the special plague of men. Infection and the formation of blister-like swellings appear around the hair roots of the beard. When these blisters break open, the fluids they release form a crust on the skin of the face.

This has always been one of the most stubborn of skin infections but with penicillin treatments, cures have been reported in as short a time as three to twenty-three days.

Though treatment with penicillin given by mouth has been tried, the most successful method in a number of cases seems to have been through injections of in the neighborhood of 600,000 units of penicillin daily plus painting of the affected area with a solution of penicillin once a day with an applicator, a piece of cotton on the end of a small stick or tooth pick.

Penicillin also has a rapid action in cases of ordinary boils or furuncles. Here too, injection of penicillin into a muscle seems to give good results in many cases. Treatment in which the penicillin is given by mouth has similar but slower effects, but it has been found that applying penicillin directly to a boil has no value, except to speed healing a little when the furuncle is already open and discharging its infected material.

Another disorder in which injections of penicillin have made for a speedy healing is known as ecthyma. The sores in ecthyma are even larger than those caused by boils, and are most likely to occur on the iegs.

Impetigo, a skin inflammation which causes blisters and crusts, also yields rapidly to penicillin whether applied locally to the area or given by injection.

It goes without saying that for an infection to respond to penicillin, it must be caused by germs which penicillin will attack. In all other cases even this sovereign remedy will be useless. Thus, before using it, the doctor must know either through experience or laboratory tests, just what germs are responsible for the disorder.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R. P.: I am a girl of 15 years of age and have had considerable trouble with a rash on my face. There is itching and peeling of the skin. What is the cause of this condition?

Answer: It is quite impossible to tell, from the description given, the cause of your condition. It may be due to eczema or to a sensitivity to some substance with which you come in contact. A careful study should be made by a skin specialist to determine the cause.

GALION TO SEEK OUTSIDE POWER

City Council Asks Bids, Approves Substation in Special Session.

Special to The Star

GALION, Sept. 15—City Council, Friday night, in a special session called by President of Council Otto Pfeifer with every councilman in his chair, unanimously passed two ordinances, authorizing the service director to advertise for bids and to enter into a contract for electric energy from an outside utility to supplement the supply generated by the Galion Municipal Light and Power company and an ordinance for construction of a substation with a capacity of 3,000 KVA necessary because of the increased power load when supplementary energy would be brought into the city.

The ordinances provide for competitive bidding. The contract for electrical energy would be for a five-year period and could be cut off if the municipal plant capacity is sufficiently large. The substation would be paid for by the city. The ordinances without amendment were given first readings July 11 following a two-week layoff of industry in order to make major repairs at the Galion Municipal Light and Power plant. Passage had been delayed until a recommendation of the light committee of council was made.

A climax was reached last week when the city's four largest manufacturing concerns met Wednesday to request action to supply adequate protection and means of supplying increasing requirements of industry.

Mayor William Amann said, "If that is what council wants, I'll probably sign the ordinances. I've got several days to do it in.

Councilmen were officially notified late Thursday, by the police department of the special meeting of council, called by Mr. Pfeifer. The mayor had previously indicated that he would not call a special meeting, but said, that if council had shown any desire for a meeting that he would have called one.

About 40 citizens and manufacturers attended the special session of council. A group of anxious citizens, fearing that Galion would become a "ghost" town if manufacturers moved out, had called upon individual councilmen Taursday to get some assurance of the outcome of Friday night's meeting. In opposition to the ordinances, some citizens and some city officials had voiced opinions that "if the utility man gets his foot in, he cannot be pushed out."

...w is billed as the United ...General assembly and the ring-master will be selected by the actors themselves.

1,000 Newsmen On Hand

To record the show for posterity will be upward of a thousand newspapermen, radio commentators and news cameramen who will fill your newspapers with millions of words and bend your ears to thousands more.

Preliminary rehearsals show that Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, chief of India's delegation, sister of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and new ambassador to Moscow, will be a headliner again.

Quiet, gray-haired, mother of two daughters, she is a forceful speaker who moves about the diplomatic stage with assurance.

She is best as an antagonist and South Africa is her target. Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, South African premier, found Mrs. Pandit a worthy opponent in the 1946 assembly as she won attention for the rights of Indian nationals in the Union.

South Africa is sending a new and younger set of jousters to contend this year with the charm and oratory of Mrs. Pandit.

Mrs. Roosevelt Present

Among the headliners also is Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt who enjoys the wholesome respect of many delegations both as the widow of the wartime president and as an able contender in her own right.

Her pet opponent is Russia's law-minded, bespectacled deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Vishinsky. If previous performances are any criterion, Mrs. Roosevelt will renew the feud with Vishinsky in her defence of Europe's displaced persons who refuse to return to their countries of origin for sound political reasons.

Around the conference table the two tear at each other, hammer and tongs. But outside they are friendly and cordial, and Vishinsky has openly expressed his admiration for Mrs. Roosevelt's sincerity.

Another delegate who loves a fight is Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australia's minister of external affairs. He likes his opponents to be big and powerful. He is perhaps the assembly's most outspoken opponent of Russia.

Opposes Use of Veto

As generally recognized leader of the small and middle powers, Evatt has turned his sometimes sharp tongue on other members of the Big Five, particularly in his campaign to abolish the major power veto which he has opposed from the day the United Nations was formed in San Francisco.

While the United Nations assembly has produced these and other fighters, it has not produced an oratorical equivalent of Roosevelt or Churchill.

The nearest to reach Churchill stature—but then in only a fleeting moment of prose oratory—was Liberia's Attorney General C. Abayomi Cassell, whose grandfather was born a slave. He spoke only once in the 1946 assembly but for three quarters of an hour he held the chamber at Flushing in pin-dropping silence.

At San Francisco, France's white-haired Paul Boncour dimmed the eyes of delegates and spectators alike in a fervent plea for peace.

So did General Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines who speaks with machine-gun staccato.

Belgian Resembles Churchill

But if one looks for a physical likeness to Churchill among the delegates he will find him in Belgium's Paul Henri Spaak.

Spaak, who was the assembly's first president in London and New York, is calm and orderly and a stickler for parliamentary procedure. He was universally acclaimed as the perfect presiding officer. In private, he jokes about his deliberate practice of imitating Churchill.

From the beginning Russia has sent her top diplomats. Previously, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov has led his country's delegation but he will be absent Tuesday. Nevertheless Russia will have an imposing delegation, led by Vishinsky and Andrei A. Gromyko.

The U. S. delegation will be led by Secretary of State George C. Marshall. It was still doubtful whether British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin would be here.

France is sending Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and China will have Foreign Minister Dr. Wang Shih-chieh on hand.

To keep the show running smoothly through its expected long run, the UN secretariat will have a staff of approximately 3,000.

OHIO CAFE OWNER WOUNDS 5 YOUTHS

By International News Service

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15—Indiana authorities investigated today the wounding of five youths by a Harrison, O., cafe proprietor.

The cafe operator, Don Barnes, 23, told authorities he shot the youths early yesterday with a target pistol when they threatened him after he ordered them from his establishment on route 52 north of Harrison.

The shooting occurred in the driveway of Mrs. Inez McCormick, cook at the cafe, a half mile west of the Hamilton county line in Indiana. Barnes said he had taken the cook home after closing the cafe and was followed by the youths.

Barnes told authorities he fired two shots into the air then fired at the legs of the boys. One shot, however, entered the chest of James Lanning, 21. His condition was described as serious.

All the youths were from Brookville, Ind.

Charges of shooting with intent to kill were expected to be filed against Barnes by Dearborn county, Ind., Sheriff F. Ernest Negangard.

Inspection Is Held By Martel Grange

The annual inspection meeting of Martel Grange was held last Tuesday evening in the school auditorium. Kenneth Pangborn, master, was in charge of the business meeting. Elmer A. Williams, county deputy, conducted an inspection followed by a short talk.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Clyde F. Logan, lecturer, and included the following: Mrs. Logan, opening song; Mrs. Nellie Thomas, a reading "The Importance of Education"; Mrs. Wilbur Holtsberry, "Always" and "Together," accordian solos; Mrs. Walter Rinehart read "Essay on Conservation."

During the harvest tableau the mixed quartet composed of Mrs. Jay Hedding, Mrs. Kenneth Pangborn, Ivan Downs and Everett Douce, sang "Bringing in the Sheaves." A humorous reading, "Mrs. Gabee Attends a Musicale" was given by Mrs. James McKinstry. A paper, "Agriculture an Essential Industry" was read by Homer Kile. A skit entitled "Who Rules the Roost' was presented with John Martin, Homer Kile and Mrs. Clarence Price portraying the characters. The program closed with the song, "Work for the Night is Coming."

Mrs. Elmer Williams was in charge of the Juvenile Grange inspection. Annual booster night and reception for the teachers will be held at the next meeting on Sept. 23. Lunch was served by a committee headed by Mrs. Charles Rorick as chairman. Tableau and decorations were in charge of Mrs. Ward Sharrock.

STATE LABOR GROUP MEETS

Ohio Federation of Labor Ponders Organization of Political Units.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 15 — Mobilization of the Ohio Federation of Labor's 500,000 members "into effective political units to defeat labor's enemies in the state and nation" will be principal activity at the OFL state convention, opening here today.

The federation's executive board met yesterday in a strategy session, Secretary-Treasurer Phil Hannah said, and decided this course of action.

An address by William Green, AFL president, highlights opening days sessions of the four-day meeting.

Lists Other Matters

Hannah, who announced his resignation last week as assistant secretary of labor, said other matters on the agenda included: improvements in the unemployment compensation law, liberalization of social security, amendments to the civil service legislation, old age pension increases, development of educational programs for workmen and support of salary increases for Ohio teachers.

Hannah, who described his resignation from the labor department as a protest against the Taft-Hartley law, announced he would speak today "in denunciation of the legislation as an infringement on labor's rights."

With more than 700 delegates registered, separate units of the federation held pre-convention elections yesterday.

William A. Jones of Toledo, was reelected state president of the Ohio Council of State, County and Municipal Employes. Robert Gleason and Joseph Fischeffer, both of Cincinnati were elected vice presidents and Miss Deborah Johnson, Toledo, secretary-treasurer.

Officers Elected

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers chose John E. Breidenbach, Dayton, as its president; Harry Williams, Cincinnati, vice president, and Clayton R. Lee, Cleveland, secretary-treasurer.

All officers of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders International Alliance were re-elected. They were: John Peters, Cleveland, president; Herschel White, Cincinnati, secretary-treasurer; and vice presidents, James O'Neil, Columbus, Mrs. Viola Jacobs, Toledo, and Mrs. Fay Rochring and Jack Edwards, Cincinnati.

Officers re-elected by the state council of Sheet Metal Workers were: John Fuchs, Cincinnati, president; Ross A. Boggs, Columbus, secretary-treasurer; Theodore Slater, Youngstown; William Frost, Akron; Walter Rohden, Dayton; Harry Ahuser, Toledo, and Jack Dietz, Cleveland, vice presidents.

It Is the Service That Matters . . .

While the casket is, of course, a necessity in any funeral service, there are other items more important. They are acts of service that are so essential.

Skilled professional work, able direction, proper equipment and personal service are the real measures of satisfactory funeral service.

Consequently the Hughes Funeral Home never offers just a casket. The prices which are all plainly marked in our display rooms are for the complete funeral service.

And those prices can be surprisingly low when a family requires or desires that costs be kept moderate.

LIVESTOCK CO-OP COMMITTEE TO MEET

Advisory Group To Head Session Here Tuesday.

Advisory committees of the Producers Livestock Cooperative association, representing markets at Marion, Bucyrus, Mt. Vernon, Coshocton and Cleveland, will hold their first meeting Tuesday at the Eagles hall here according to Robert Bradley, manager of the local market.

These committees, Mr. Bradley explained, were established to consider the operations of the associations, and to make suggestions to the officers and management for improving the marketing of livestock.

In addition to the committee members, it is expected that F. G. Ketner of Columbus, general manager of the co-op, and others from the central office, and livestock specialists from Ohio State university will take part in the discussions.

Advisory committee members for the Marion yards are Don Foos of Prospect, chairman; Forest Loudenslager of Marion, vice chairman; Oscar Murphy of Morral, Willard Davidson and Walter A. Mautz of Marion, Frank Heimlich of Cardington, Forest Cates of New Bloomington and Beaver Bricker of Green Camp.

Nine hundred thousand square miles of Russia were planted with mines and shells and booby-traps by the German invaders.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

PARKS OR COW PASTURES?

Editor of The Star: I have read in The Star at different times about groups from Marion going to Harrison Smith park, Upper Sandusky, on picnic parties. I have been informed it is a wonderful place for such parties and I haven't decided yet whether it tickled me or disgusted me a few nights ago when I read about the Marion courthouse officers and employes going there for their picnic. Not that they aren't entitled to go on picnics and have a good time like anyone else, but what burns me up is that Marion city or county has no place for their own people to go on picnics, only what the state highway department put along the highways at Waldo, Brush Ridge and a few other places.

I have been living in Marion 35 years and the three patches of woods that are called parks in our city are not nearly as good as they were 35 years ago, because the trees are that much older and a large number of them are falling each year due to storms and bad condition of the trees.

In all these years there have been very few improvements made. Instead of keeping the grass mowed with lawn mowers, it is cut about twice through the summer with a farm mowing machine, consequently making it impossible to walk or sit any place except on the drives on account of the stubbles. Then there aren't any benches to sit on, so what good are they as parks?

During the past hot weather there were pictures in papers of other cities of people going to the parks, even sleeping there when it was more comfortable than in their homes. How about sleeping in one of our so-called parks?

Another thing that does not help any is the way the leaves have been disposed of the past several years, waiting until thy have mostly fallen after the frost and setting the whole place on fire. You don't see farmers set their woods on fire every year, because they know they won't have any trees in a few years after burning the trunks while burning the leaves.

I think it's about time Marion got a live wire park commission and if they don't do more than the present gang get rid of them and get some one that will.

I also think it would be a good idea for the county commissioners to have a park out in the county where our neighbors from surrounding counties could come and have a good time like our people have been having in Wyandot county.

How about you citizens of Marion? Do you want parks or cow pastures?

Canton Editor Resigns To Accept New Position

By Brush-Moore News Service

CANTON, Sept. 15—Edmund C. Hamilton, managing editor of the Canton Repository since October, 1946, has resigned to accept a position as associate publisher and director of the news department of the Monroe (Wis.) Evening Times.

At Monroe, he will be associated with Emery A. O'Dell, founder and president of the Times.

Mr. Hamilton, a native of Chicago, started newspaper work in Fort Wayne, Ind. He worked on newspapers in Springfield, O., before joining the Repository in May, 1930. His resignation became effective Saturday. He will leave in the near future to assume his new duties. Mrs. Hamilton will join him in Monroe later. The Hamiltons have one son, Frank, who entered West Point military academy last month.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Skin Ills

Since nearly everybody knows from experience what a lot of discomfort a single boil can cause it doesn't take a great deal of imagination to understand the plight of those who have skin disorders which cause whole crops of these unsightly sores.

In the past, little enough could be done directly to clear up such infections, but today it looks as if penicillin, the wonder drug to which we owe so much in other fields, will also give as a quick and simple way of dealing with many of these trouble makers.

One of these, folliculitis of the beard, is the special plague of men. Infection and the formation of blister-like swellings appear around the hair roots of the beard. When these blisters break open, the fluids they release form a crust on the skin of the face.

This has always been one of the most stubborn of skin infections but with penicillin treatments, cures have been reported in as short a time as three to twenty-three days.

Though treatment with penicillin given by mouth has been tried, the most successful method in a number of cases seems to have been through injections of in the neighborhood of 800,000 units of penicillin daily plus painting of the affected area with a solution of penicillin once a day with an applicator, a piece of cotton on the end of a small stick or tooth pick.

Penicillin also has a rapid action in cases of ordinary boils or furuncles. Here too, injection of penicillin into a muscle seems to give good results in many cases. Treatment in which the penicillin is given by mouth has similar but slower effects, but it has been found that applying penicillin directly to a boil has no value, except to speed healing a little when the furuncle is already open and discharging its infected material.

Another disorder in which injections of penicillin have made for a speedy healing is known as ecthyma. The sores in ecthyma are even larger than those caused by boils, and are most likely to occur on the legs.

Impetigo, a skin inflammation which causes blisters and crusts, also yields rapidly to penicillin whether applied locally to the area or given by injection.

It goes without saying that for an infection to respond to penicillin, it must be caused by germs which penicillin will attack. In all other cases even this sovereign remedy will be useless. Thus, before using it, the doctor must know either through experience or laboratory tests, just what germs are responsible for the disorder.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R. P.: I am a girl of 15 years of age and have had considerable trouble with a rash on my face. There is itching and peeling of the skin. What is the cause of this condition?

Answer: It is quite impossible to tell, from the description given, the cause of your condition. It may be due to eczema or to a sensitivity to some substance with which you come in contact. A careful study should be made by a skin specialist to determine the cause.

GALION TO SEEK OUTSIDE POWER

City Council Asks Bids, Approves Substation in Special Session.

Special to The Star

GALION, Sept. 15—City Council, Friday night, in a special session called by President of Council Otto Pfeifer with every councilman in his chair, unanimously passed two ordinances, authorizing the service director to advertise for bids and to enter into a contract for electric energy from an outside utility to supplement the supply generated by the Galion Municipal Light and Power company and an ordinance for construction of a substation with a capacity of 3,000 KVA necessary because of the increased power load when supplementary energy would be brought into the city.

The ordinances provide for competitive bidding. The contract for electrical energy would be for a five-year period and could be cut off if the municipal plant capacity is sufficiently large. The substation would be paid for by the city. The ordinances without amendment were given first readings July 11 following a two-week layoff of industry in order to make major repairs at the Galion Municipal Light and Power plant. Passage had been delayed until a recommendation of the light committee of council was made.

A climax was reached last week when the city's four largest manufacturing concerns met Wednesday to request action to supply adequate protection and means of supplying increasing requirements of industry.

Mayor William Amann said, "If that is what council wants, I'll probably sign the ordinances. I've got several days to do it in.

Councilmen were officially notified late Thursday, by the police department of the special meeting of council, called by Mr. Pfeifer. The mayor had previously indicated that he would not call a special meeting, but said, that if council had shown any desire for a meeting that he would have called one.

About 40 citizens and manufacturers attended the special session of council. A group of anxious citizens, fearing that Galion would become a "ghost" town if manufacturers moved out, had called upon individual councilmen Thursday to get some assurance of the outcome of Friday night's meeting. In opposition to the ordinances, some citizens and some city officials had voiced opinions that "if the utility man gets his foot in, he cannot be pushed out."

...billed as the United ...eral assembly and the ring-master will be selected by the actors themselves.

1,000 Newsmen On Hand

To record the show for posterity will be upward of a thousand newspapermen, radio commentators and news cameramen who will fill your newspapers with millions of words and bend your ears to thousands more.

Preliminary rehearsals show that Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, chief of India's delegation, sister of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and new ambassador to Moscow, will be a headliner again.

Quiet, gray-haired, mother of two daughters, she is a forceful speaker who moves about the diplomatic stage with assurance.

She is best as an antagonist and South Africa is her target. Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, South African premier found Mrs. Pandit a worthy opponent in the 1946 assembly as she won attention for the rights of Indian nationals in the Union.

South Africa is sending a new and younger set of jousters to contend this year with the charm and oratory of Mrs. Pandit.

Mrs. Roosevelt Present

Among the headliners also is Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt who enjoys the wholesome respect of many delegations both as the widow of the wartime president and as an able contender in her own right.

Her pet opponent is Russia's law-minded, bespectacled deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Vishinsky. If previous performances are any criterion, Mrs. Roosevelt will renew the feud with Vishinsky in her defence of Europe's displaced persons who refuse to return to their countries of origin for sound political reasons.

Around the conference table the two tear at each other, hammer and tongs. But outside they are friendly and cordial, and Vishinsky has openly expressed his admiration for Mrs. Roosevelt's sincerity.

Another delegate who loves a fight is Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australia's minister of external affairs. He likes his opponents to be big and powerful. He is perhaps the assembly's most outspoken opponent of Russia.

Opposes Use of Veto

As generally recognized leader of the small and middle powers, Evatt has turned his sometimes sharp tongue on other members of the Big Five, particularly in his campaign to abolish the major power veto which he has opposed from the day the United Nations was formed in San Francisco.

While the United Nations assembly has produced these and other fighters, it has not produced an oratorical equivalent of Roosevelt or Churchill.

The nearest to reach Churchill stature—but then in only a fleeting moment of prose oratory—was Liberia's Attorney General C. Abayomi Cassell, whose grandfather was born a slave. He spoke only once in the 1946 assembly but for three quarters of an hour he held the chamber at Flushing in pin-dropping silence.

At San Francisco, France's white-haired Paul Boncour dimmed the eyes of delegates and spectators alike in a fervent plea for peace.

So did General Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines who speaks with machine-gun staccato.

Belgian Resembles Churchill

But if one looks for a physical likeness to Churchill among the delegates he will find him in Belgium's Paul Henri Spaak.

Spaak, who was the assembly's first president in London and New York, is calm and orderly and a stickler for parliamentary procedure. He was universally acclaimed as the perfect presiding officer. In private, he jokes about his deliberate practice of imitating Churchill.

From the beginning Russia has sent her top diplomats. Previously Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov has led his country's delegation but he will be absent Tuesday. Nevertheless Russia will have an imposing delegation, led by Vishinsky and Andrei A. Gromyko.

The U. S. delegation will be led by Secretary of State George C. Marshall. It was still doubtful whether British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin would be here.

France is sending Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and China will have Foreign Minister Dr. Wang Shih-chieh on hand.

To keep the show running smoothly through its expected long run, the UN secretariat will have a staff of approximately 3,000.

OHIO CAFE OWNER WOUNDS 5 YOUTHS

By International News Service

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15—Indiana authorities investigated today the wounding of five youths by a Harrison, O., cafe proprietor.

The cafe operator, Don Barnes, 28, told authorities he shot the youths early yesterday with a target pistol when they threatened him after he ordered them from his establishment on route 52 north of Harrison.

The shooting occurred in the driveway of Mrs. Inez McCormick, cook at the cafe, a half mile west of the Hamilton county line in Indiana. Barnes said he had taken the cook home after closing the cafe and was followed by the youths.

Barnes told authorities he fired two shots into the air then fired at the legs of the boys. One shot, however, entered the chest of James Lanning, 21. His condition was described as serious.

All the youths were from Brookville, Ind.

Charges of shooting with intent to kill were expected to be filed against Barnes by Dearborn county, Ind., Sheriff F. Ernest Negangard.

STATE LABOR GROUP MEETS

Ohio Federation of Labor Ponders Organization of Political Units.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 15—Mobilization of the Ohio Federation of Labor's 500,000 members "into effective political units to defeat labor's enemies in the state and nation" will be principal activity at the OFL state convention, opening here today.

The federation's executive board met yesterday in a six-hour session, Secretary-Treasurer Phil Hannah said, and decided this course of action.

An address by William Green, AFL president, highlights opening days sessions of the four-day meeting.

Lists Other Matters

Hannah, who announced his resignation last week as assistant secretary of labor, said other matters on the agenda included improvements in the unemployment compensation law, liberalization of social security amendments to the civil service legislation, old age pension increases, development of educational programs for workmen and support of salary increases for Ohio teachers.

Hannah, who described his resignation from the labor department as a protest against the Taft-Hartley law, announced he would speak today "in denunciation of the legislation as an infringement on labor's rights."

With more than 700 delegates registered, separate units of the federation held pre-convention elections yesterday.

William A. Jones of Toledo, was reelected state president of the Ohio Council of State, County and Municipal Employes. Robert Gleason and Joseph Fischeffer, both of Cincinnati, were elected vice presidents and Miss Deborah Johnson, Toledo, secretary-treasurer.

Officers Elected

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers chose John E. Breidenbach, Dayton, as its president. Harry Williams, Cincinnati, vice president, and Clayton R. Lee, Cleveland, secretary-treasurer.

All officers of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders International Alliance were re-elected. They were John Peters, Cleveland, president; Herschel White, Cincinnati, secretary-treasurer; and vice presidents James O'Neil, Columbus, Mrs. Viola Jacobs, Toledo, and Mrs. Fay Rochring and Jack Edwards, Cincinnati.

Officers re-elected by the state council of Sheet Metal Workers were John Fuchs, Cincinnati, president; Ross A. Boggs, Columbus, secretary-treasurer; Theodore Slater, Youngstown; William Frost, Akron; Walter Rohden, Dayton; Harry Ahuser, Toledo, and Jack Dietz, Cleveland, vice presidents.

It Is the Service That Matters . . .

While the casket is, of course, a necessity in any funeral service, there are other items more important. They are acts of service that are so essential.

Skilled professional work, able direction, proper equipment and personal service are the real measures of satisfactory funeral service.

Consequently the Hughes Funeral Home never offers just a casket. The prices which are all plainly marked in our display rooms are for the complete funeral service.

And those prices can be surprisingly low when a family requires or desires that costs be kept moderate.

Inspection Is Held By Martel Grange

The annual inspection meeting of Martel Grange was held last Tuesday evening in the school auditorium. Kenneth Pangborn, master, was in charge of the business meeting. Elmer A. Williams, county deputy, conducted an inspection followed by a short talk.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Clyde F. Logan, lecturer, and included the following: Mrs. Logan, opening song; Mrs. Nellie Thomas, a reading "The Importance of Education"; Mrs. Wilbur Holtsberry, "Always" and "Together," accordian solos; Mrs. Walter Rinehart read "Essay on Conservation."

During the harvest tableau the mixed quartet composed of Mrs. Jay Hedding, Mrs. Kenneth Pangborn, Ivan Downs and Everett Douce, sang "Bringing in the Sheaves." A humorous reading, "Mrs. Gabee Attends a Musicale" was given by Mrs. James McKinstry. A paper, "Agriculture an Essential Industry" was read by Homer Kile. A skit entitled "Who Rules the Roost" was presented with John Martin, Homer Kile and Mrs. Clarence Price portraying the characters. The program closed with the song, "Work for the Night is Coming."

Mrs. Elmer Williams was in charge of the Juvenile Grange inspection. Annual booster night and reception for the teachers will be held at the next meeting on Sept. 23. Lunch was served by a committee headed by Mrs. Charles Rorick as chairman. Tableau and decorations were in charge of Mrs. Ward Sharrock.

The Assembly's Task

WITH the United Nations general assembly ready to reconvene, member nations will have an opportunity to test the extent of its powers under the UN charter. When the charter was drafted the small powers weren't able to deny the security council the veto but they fought successfully to preserve the assembly as a forum for free discussion of matters affecting world peace. In effect, the security council was to be the enforcement agency, the general assembly the focal point of world opinion.

Hamstrung by the veto power, the council has bogged down in sophistry and endless haggling. By using the veto on 18 occasions, Russia has blocked action on virtually every important matter to come before the council. Methods of by-passing the veto no doubt will be carefully explored by the assembly. Article 51 may provide the legal device whereby the assembly, without endangering the charter, could empower a committee to act outside the scope of the council on actions on which it is stymied.

This raises the question of how Russia would react to such a step. The assembly's problem will be to bypass the veto without causing Russia to secede from the UN, and to endow itself with a moral power beyond what it holds today. If it can do that it can meet the present need without shattering the UN in the process.

Secretary Marshall's decision to take personal command of the American delegation at the session is indicative of the importance attached to it. The future of UN may well hang in the balance.

Anything To Hide?

THIS might be a good time for leaders of the steel industry to do what labor union leaders were criticized for not doing when they refused to admit unions were not faultless.

The steel industry is being lined up for a good look by its severest critics. That's no secret. The critics want to put the industry on the spot for the votes that would be won in a good smear before the 1948 election.

Some of them go further than that and want to make things hot for steel as the foundation of the entire American industrial organization; they are really after capitalism and steel is the goat.

But on the other side of the picture are steel's honest critics, among them Senator Martin of Pennsylvania, that state's former governor, and now the head of a special senate subcommittee studying the steel industry. Martin is not a captious critic not a malicious one.

He warns the steel industry that it must serve the public interest or face the public wrath—and the industry knows where he thinks its weaknesses are. They are in evidence of less than maximum production, less than maximum fairness in distribution price structures, less than unassailable records of free competition. His warning should be heeded.

There is danger that spokesmen for steel may go on the defensive and give the public the impression they are trying to hide what may be wrong. Their best bet—if they have nothing to hide—it to act that way. A good place to start would be an admission that the steel industry isn't faultless and will welcome all constructive criticism.

Marshall Has Faith

SECRETARY MARSHALL'S speech Sunday before the American Association for the United Nations was hopeful but not confident.

With the general assembly's second session about to open, Mr. Marshall pointed out that the UN's initial period of organization and early growth is ending. "Our work will now be subjected to more critical examination," he said. "Apprehension and anxiety over the future of the United Nations reflect insecurity about the intentions of the members themselves. There is genuine danger our hopes of two years ago will give way to skepticism."

Mr. Marshall believes there is no present need to consider ways of amending the UN charter. Many parts of it have not yet been brought into play and given life and meaning by practical application. General assembly members themselves have by no means exhausted ways and means of overcoming obstructions to meet their common problems.

"In reflecting upon our own experience, the American constitutional development, we find that even where we were one people and there were generally agreed objectives, a long time, much of forebearance and a willingness to compromise were needed in building our great constitutional system."

The secretary believes the people of the United Nations also have common basic purposes which provide the machinery for effective international cooperation. So do most Americans but their belief has been shaken by 18 Russian vetoes which have virtually made a mockery of the security council. Operating outside the veto, but with smaller powers, and those rather nebulous, the assembly this week begins deliberations which, let us hope, restore that belief.

News Behind the News

Random Items as Columnist Cleans Up Desk.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 — Cleaning up my desk:

A Democratic senator back from the Rockies says people are not much interested in tax reduction. His vote for the Truman veto was not protested by his constituents. Other Democrats back this view. In fact they back it so well as to suggest a concerted plan has been made to talk along this line. A Republican from the western farm belt found exactly the opposite situation, unsurprisingly, in his nearby state. He says people are alive to the needs of venture capital and tax reduction, and are not overconscious of the high public debt. Personally, I have found few taxpayers who were not interested in tax reduction. The Republican reports mean a reduction bill, possibly stronger than last year, will be enacted early in the session before the primary elections, as Republican finance authorities in the house now are advertising. They may effect income base rates almost entirely, may make no difference in capital gains, although excises may be cut in half (from 20 down to roughly 10 per cent.) Any bill undoubtedly will be retroactive until next Jan. 1. It will not get to Truman's desk until February or March, although Republicans are likely to make it the first order of business.

Those who are on the inside of Mississippi politics say the straightout election of a successor to the late Senator Bilbo in November will not involve the race issue, because only a few thousand Negroes are registered, and their votes in all probability will not influence the result. (One authority says 5,000 Negroes are registered in Mississippi.) Thoughtful Mississippians are distressed over announcement of Rep. John Rankin, say they had enough raving and ranting under Bilbo and would like to forget it. This does not imply any withdrawal of opinions by anyone on race issues, merely suggests a desire to live in reasonable harmony. Rankin will probably get the Bilbo following, but my informants say he will not win unless political forces outside Mississippi inject themselves into the special election campaign and sensitize the issue. These authorities like the chances of Rep. William Colmer, who won respect in the house as a serious-minded middle-road man. Also Judge John J. Stennis, a 46-year old circuit judge, and some others.

Many reports are going around inside with a pessimistic view on the economic outlook in nations over the world which have sided with democracy against Communism. There is not much new or hot in them. One report for instance says Japan faces long time economic difficulties, output is low and self-sufficiency of production is not in sight. Others concern outbreaks likely in India now that Britain has withdrawn None questions the right of India to freedom but most authorities question her ability for freedom. It is peculiar no one has stressed the vast difference between the right to freedom and the ability to freedom.

'Tis commonly said there will be some new labor (meaning union) legislation next session and Rep. Hartley is publicly threatening same. Actually there probably will not be anything important. Chairman Joe Ball's joint committee is supposed to report by March 15, at a time when primary elections will be in full swing and presidential candidates rampant. Ball has written a private letter to each member of his committee which has not been published. He says it is the job of the committee (opening investigations of labor, not merely unions) to make fundamental studies, to find out why one company has good labor relations and another has nothing but trouble. In this letter Ball implies he will deal with the Taft-Hartley bill only as instances arise in his more basic survey. The committee will not be used to settle labor disputes or haul publicity chestnuts, Ball says.

Republicans probably will retain control of the senate if they win the presidency, but only in that case, and it could be closer than you have thought. Loss of three would cost them the upper house. However, Democratic Senators Kilgore in West Virginia and Herbert O'Conor in Maryland are being subjected to investigations which may cost them their seats, in which event the Republican task would be easier.

"After today's contribution, Mr. Mallon's column will be suspended indefinitely. Concurrent with the termination of his contract with the sponsoring syndicate, he will go on protracted vacation."

This Could Serve To Make It Popular

An Alabama citizen has been fined $27.50 for kissing his wife on the street.

Inflation, thy spell is everywhere.

$27.50 for kissing your wife? I can remember when you could beat her for less.

What's he charged with, setting a bad example?

When a man kisses his wife in public, he's not breaking anything but precedent.

Few men kiss their wives on the street, of course, but it's because they lack, not the right, but the inclination.

I trust the Civil Liberties Union will carry this case to the supreme court and establish, once and for all, man's inalienable if inoperative right to kiss his wife on the street. Otherwise, our nature being what it is, we may well be in for an outbreak of public osculation which will result in this going down in history as the second Romantic Era.

"Blitz Trips" To Europe

By RAYMOND MOLEY

EXPERTS on Europe are getting to be as common in this country as English sparrows. Planes and boats are hauling investigators and their advisers' assistants back and forth in droves. It is said that something like a hundred congressmen are now abroad, officially or otherwise.

Some of the visits by Americans are incredibly brief—blitz trips, in fact. All the various reports and comments of the visitors will weigh in the decisions which must be made in determining American policy. But we should remember, when we hear these reports, how diverse are European conditions and how difficult it is to determine reality through superficial observation.

Skillful Hosts

The problem is rendered more difficult by the practiced skill with which official Europe determines what visitors shall or shall not see. The story comes to mind of a British committee which visited Germany in 1919. The officials offered the visitors a dinner at the Esplanade hotel in Berlin. The dinner was served on the famous old Dresden ware, the silver was elegant, and the service was exemplary. But the food was of the worst procurable—soup made with potato flour, watery turnips without salt, an omelette of egg powder, and the poorest of ersatz coffee. Had they remained a while, the visitors would have seen that the hotels served some wonderful meals—at a price.

That this form of deception is not used in present-day England is shown by a recent occurrence in London. A group of congressmen came to a hotel for breakfast and asked for grapefruit juice, ham and eggs and coffee. There was no juice, but a ham omelette of substantial proportions was put together, which the solons ate with relish. It must be hoped that they realized the management had practically mortgaged the place to get special rations for the visitors. An egg a week is still the common portion in England.

Not As They Seem

In either case — the Germany of 1919, or England in 1947—appearances were deceiving.

And any attempt to generalize about European conditions is useless. Food is genuinely scare in England. In France, a young visitor reports a good dinner with champagne for $1.50. Denmark eats well, and food is plentiful in Sweden at a fat price.

The degree of human industry varies widely. The Finns are working like beavers to pay off reparations to Russia. In British coal regions, whippet racing seems to be vying with coal digging.

But there are competent people working in the various countries for the United States government who are looking below the surface. These people are experienced employes of embassies, commercial and agricultural attaches, UN employes and civil servants attached to nhe military governments. The facts will be in Washington when President Truman concludes his holiday on the Missouri. If congress is called in special session, these facts will be available.

But when momentous decisions are at hand, grave difficulties will stand in the way of a rational solution. There will be a widespread suspicion in congress that the President has his eye on the election and that he is eager to interpret any hesitation by Republican members as a return to isolationism. There will, consequently, be suspicion of the case presented by the administration. There will also be the half-truths picked up by the blitz travelers.

Able Men Needed

As this column has said before, the situation calls for a correlation of the facts by men such as Bernard Baruch, whose interest in the stabilization of Europe can not be doubted, whose experience commands respect and in whom partisanship in this matter can not be claimed. If the need is as urgent as is claimed, the need for competent and impartial presentation of the facts is doubly necessary.

A pound of coal contains four to five times the energy found in a pound of TNT.

Errors in Containment Policy

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IT WILL be evident, I am sure, to the reader who has followed the argument to this point that my criticism of the policy of containment, or the so-called Truman Doctrine, does not spring from any hope or belief that the Soviet pressure to expand can be "charmed or talked out of existence." I agree entirely with Mr. X that we must make up our minds that the Soviet power is not amenable to our arguments, but only "to contrary force" that "is felt to be too strong, and thus more rational in the logic and rhetoric of power."

My objection, then, to the policy of containment is not that it seeks to confront the Soviet power with American power, but that the policy is misconceived, and must result in a misuse of American power. For as I have sought to show, it commits this country to a struggle which has for its objective nothing more substantial than the hope that in ten or fifteen years the Soviet power will, as the result of long frustration, "break up" or "mellow." In this prolonged struggle the role of the United States is, according to Mr. X, to react "at a series of constantly shifting geographical and political points" to the encroachments of the Soviet power.

Initiative To Kremlin

The policy, therefore, concedes to the Kremlin the strategical initiative as to when, where and under what local circumstances the issue is to be joined. It compels the United States to meet the Soviet pressure at these shifting geographical and political points by using satellite states, puppet governments and agents which have been subsidized and supported, though their effectiveness is meager and their reliability uncertain. By forcing us to expend our energies and our substance upon these dubious and unnatural allies on the perimeter of the Soviet Union, the effect of the policy is to neglect our natural allies int he Atlantic community and to alienate them.

They are alienated also by the fact that they do not wish to become, like the nations of the perimeter, the clients of the United States in whose affairs we intervene, asking as the price of our support that they take the directives of their on policy from Washington. They are alienated above all by the prospect of war, which could break out by design or accident, by miscalculation or provocation, if at any of these constantly shifting geographical and political points the Russians or Americans became so deeply enagaged that no retreat or compromise was possible. In this war their lands would be the battlefield. Their peoples would be divided by civil conflict. Their cities and their fields would be the bases and the bridgeheads in a total war which, because it would merge into a general civil war, would be as indecisive as it was savage.

We may now ask why the official diagnosis of Soviet conduct, as disclosed by Mr. X's article, has led to such an unworkable policy for dealing with Russia. It is, I believe, because Mr. X has neglected even to mention the fact that the Soviet Union is the successor of the Russian Empire and that Stalin is not only the heir of Marx and of Lenin but of Peter the Great, and the Czars of all the Russians.

Rulers Not Considered

For reasons which I do not understand, Mr. X decided not to consider the men in the Kremlin as the rulers of the Russian state and empire, and has limited his analysis to the interaction of "two forces": "the ideology inherited by the present Soviet leaders from the movement in which they had their political origin" and the "circumstances of the power which they have now exercised for nearly three decades in Russia."

Thus he dwells on the indubitable fact that they believe in the Marxian ideology and that "they have continued to be predominantly absorbed with the struggle to secure and make absolute the power which they seized in November, 1917." But with these two observations alone he can not, and does not, explain the conduct of the Soviet government in this post-war era—that is to say, its aims and claims to territory and to the sphere of influence which it dominates. The Soviet government has been run by Marxian revolutionists for thirty years; what has to be explained by a planner of Amreican foreign policy is why in 1945 the Soviet government expanded its frontiers and its orbit, and what was the plan and pattern of its expansion. That can be done only by remembering that the Soviet government is a Russian government and that this Russian government has emerged victorious over Germany and Japan.

Having omitted from his analysis the fact that we are dealing with a victorious Russia, having become exclusively preoccupied with the Marxian ideology, and with the Communist revolution, it is no wonder that the outcome of Mr. X's analysis is nothing more definite, concrete and practical than that the Soviets will encroach and expand "at a series of constantly shifting geographical and political points." Mr. X's picture of the Soviet conduct has no pattern. It is amorphous. That is why his conclusions about how we should deal with the Soviets have no pattern, and are also amorphous.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill—Anybody seen Ed Hines' barnlot? Where it was now is just a hole and in it is a barn, the roof of which was about the level with the top of the hole. It all resulted during a Mississippi river flood when a swift current of rushing flood waters literally gouged the ground from under the barn.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Bathroom of Tomorrow

It is encouraging to discover that in a time of global chaos and frenzied concern with atomic energy time has been found for a new type bathroom. We had fancied this was something that would just have to wait.

But no, it has been introduced, the Greco-Yugo-Slav, Russian Indonesian, Chinese and Korean troubles notwithstanding. The new bathroom has in fact triumphed over Stalin, the Sophoulis, the American State Department, the Brazil conference, inflation and the British-American film crisis. It is cheering news.

The bathroom of the bright new world will be the "two-passenger." (There will now be an interval of two minutes to denote amazement, apprehension and shock.)

* * *

The trouble with the bathroom has always been that you had to travel alone. There was room for only one at a time. That was all anybody wanted in the old days. The demand for group bathrooms—chummy, congenial and sociable little places—was nil. And now it is a chicken in every pot, two cars in every garage and three people in every bath.

But the world "do move." And the firm of Katz, Waisman, Blumenkranz and Stein (the name is not out of an old Harry B. Smith operetta) has introduced through House and Garden and department stores the Daily Double, Multiple Occupant and No-Lock-Necessary Bathroom to a world no longer capable of being surprised by anything.

You can't exactly use it for receptions. It is no free-for-all. You won't meet a lot of people there. The new dream bathroom is a matter of compartments and partitions. Popper may share it while mumsie is in the tub. A house guest can be stumbling around with no embarrassments. Despite the absence of "stop" and "go" and "no left turns" signs.

The "feel-at-home-in-groups-in-the-bath" bathroom is not just for the masses. It will remain a novelty—and now!—for some time to come, as it is strictly a de luxe item, requiring 30 per cent more space than the average bath and having all sorts of novelties, including cork floors, disappearing medicine cabinets and water faucets turned on by foot pedals. The latter will give you the bracing effect of washing and bicycling at the same time.

There is even a weight-scale that folds into the wall.

In fact, the Bath of Tomorrow has so many novelties one can go into it for his amusement or amazement.

* * *

Personally, we deplore it. The bathroom has come to dominate the American home. It has been over featured for the last two decades. We prefer a situation in which the other rooms are important.

And socialistic super-whiz!
He'd make his many plans come true
By reaching for what isn't his.

When master minds of plans quite new
Get in a hole sans rope or line
They blithely hatch some further plans
And cry "Come in! The water's fine!"

CAN YOU REMEMBER?

Away back when it paid to be victor in a war?

One of the most hilarious chapters in Bemelmans's "Dirty Eddie" is the one in which the movie producer, told by the high-priced nonproductive but famous writer that he is used to working in a dirty hotel room, has the room shipped from New York to Hollywood and reassembled. When anything is perfectly reproduced except a big ink-stain on the rug, the producer pours a bottle of ink on it.

Perfect Ratio

By TRUMAN TWILL

IT WAS mentioned here last spring that gardening at the Twillery this season would be held to a minimum. It was. Nothing was wasted, not an effort, nor an inch of space. This is being recorded not as a boast but as a fact of interest.

As a hysterical Victory Gardener, this column wasted enough effort in a 30x30 patch to farm an acre. There was a continuous pulling of weeds, stirring of the soil and fussing and fidgeting. It was wasted effort and recognized as such after the first two frantic years.

A lot of other things were recognized about the same time, such as the futility of raising breakfast radishes that no one wanted to eat, likewise leafy green stuff that theoretically was going to be eaten with gusto but wasn't. The least productive segment of the garden was turned back to grass at that point as a small but earnest contribution to the national fight against soil erosion.

In the part that was left, there still was a good deal of weed-pulling and cultivating. This too went by the board last summer, when the garden was allowed to shift for itself and did remarkably well, in view of the fact it had been spaded only in spots.

This year it wasn't even spaded in spots. The 24 tomato plants it contained, plus a few nandy onions, grew in the way nature intended all things should grow, in competition with other things, sometimes in cooperation with them. The tomato plants were socked into holes in the ground on top of a little compost and did just fine.

The weeds and grasses around them shaded them from the sun and kept them from being washed by the rain. When the little tomatoes took on size and became big tomatoes they rested comfortably on a bed of greenery. The arrangement was very snug, very satisfactory, very labor-saving.

And the tomatoes were never nicer. Also the onions. From somewhere—an errant seed dropped during the war years—two stalks of dill appeared and gave a gardener something to ramble while congratulating himself on raising tomatoes without toil.

In the corner of the tomato patch, situated to catch the water running off the garage roof, the compost pit digests its intake of last year's vegetable fibers, preparing them for their destiny of helping to make tomato plants grow again next year.

There has been achieved a perfect agricultural balance, such as old-world farmers achieve—perpetual production in ratio to the manpower and fertilizer available. The food output of the Twillery is that of 24 tomato plants, a few perpetual onions that no one wants, and a couple stalks of dill. If it were any greater it would take more energy to produce it than it could replace—a losing proposition.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Enclosing a Porch

Q. I am enclosing a porch and intend to line it with knotty pine. Also, I intend to insulate this enclosure with rock wool. The space between the inside and outside wall will be 4 inches, or the width of a 2x4. If this is air tight, will dry rot result? What can I do to guard against dry rot?

A. If you have any misgivings about wood deterioration, you could give the wood a coat or two of spar varnish or perhaps a wood preservative. Spar varnish also would provide protection for your knotty pine. A thick, blanket type of insulation could be used under the floor, in the side walls, and in the ceiling. As an added precaution aginst dampness from underneath (before applying the insulation), coat the under side of the floor on all surfaces with tar or liquid asphalt. If you intend to use the porch during the winter it should have storm sash on the windows, metal weatherstripping if possible, and additional heat.

Basement and Chimney

Q. Can you give me any information concerning the best and easiest way of installing a basement in a dwelling already erected without one? Also on the construction of an outside chimney and inside fireplace?

A. If you know nothing about this type of work, it is best to have it all done by an experienced contractor; there is too much risk involved. If you attempt the basement work by yourself, the house may fall in, or the structure may become wakened if not properly supported. If a chimney is not correctly built, there is grave danger from fire or leakage. If you wish a leaflet on the chimney work, send 10 cents in coin to the Superintedent of Documents, Washington, D. C., and ask for the Farmers Bulletin 1889, on chimney and fireplace construction.

Wallpaper Does Not Stay

Q. My house is made of cement blocks with a stucco finish. I have trouble in keeping wallpaper on the walls on one side of the house. I painted these walls with one of the new cold water paints, but that also peeled off. What can I do to keep some kind of finish on the walls?

A. I make the guess that your inside plastering is applied directly on the masonry walls. This construction would cause enough condensation to make the wallpaper fall off and paint peel. The best thing to do is to put up lath on furring strips, on which you can either apply plaster or else an insulating board. This will give an air space between the inner and outer walls. To make your house more comfortable, fill the spaces between the studs with a batt or blanket form of insulation.

Archway Between Rooms

Q: How should I go about building an arch between my bedroom and living room, and also between the kitchen and bedroom?

A: The job requires experience in carpentry and plastering. If you have had no such experience, it would be better to wait until you can employ professional help. The present doorways will have to be removed, the spaces enlarged, and a framework of two-by-fours made for the lath and plaster. If the top of the arch is to be elliptical or round, a preformed one of metal ready for plastering can be obtained from a dealer in mason materials. Instructions can be had with the materials.

Social Affairs

MRS. LUTHER D. TRAYNOR of Danville, Ky., is announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Beth, to William Howard Stein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Stein of 197 Elm street. The wedding will take place Friday, Dec. 19, in the Gobin Memorial church on the campus at DePauw university, where both Miss Traynor and her fiance are students. The ceremony will be read at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. Bibb Taynor, uncle of the bride-elect.

THE first meeting of the season for members of the executive board of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs will be held Tuesday at the Federation Home. Activities for the year will be discussed and plans made for the central district conference to be held here in October. The meeting will be held at 12 o'clock and as in former years the members will bring their own lunch. Coffee will be served.

The annual guest day party of the Never Fail club was held Wednesday at Ringers inn. Mrs. Mildred Tarbill, Mrs. Mabel Campbell and Mrs. Arwilda Dreyer were hostesses and were in charge of a program. Piano numbers were by Mrs. Lena Bricker. Mrs. Lucille Uncapher gave history of the club, Mrs. Edna Knackel gave a reading, and Mrs. Vena Long and Mrs. Mabel Schaber sang. Guests were Mrs. Delbert Lichtenberger, Mrs. Della McColley, Mrs. L. C. Pfeiffer, Mrs. Knachel, David Martin, Miss Louise Long and Jean Ann Bricker. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Schaber on the Rayl and Uncapher pike.

The Get-to-Gether club held its monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Phoebe DeLong, west of Green Camp. Mrs. Mildred Burley conducted devotions, and Mrs. Danna Crum was in charge of contests with prizes going to Mrs. Florence Zieg, Mrs. Mildred Burley, Mrs. Maxine Owen, Mrs. Ruth Lyon and Mrs. Doris Jane Schwaderer. A special award was won by Mrs. Virginia Holt. Mrs. Delores Imbody was a guest. Plans were made for a wiener roast for members and families to be held Oct. 5 at Newman's Roadside park.

Picnic Launches New Season For Burroughs Club

A PICNIC at Miss Mary Kull's farm home east of Caledonia Saturday evening opened the 1947-48 season for members of the Burroughs Nature club. More than 20 members attended the outdoor event and there was a short business meeting.

For roll call the members told their vacation experiences. Miss Marie Ruehrmund, who will leave in the near future to make her home in the west, presented the members with bulbs from the garden of her home on West Church street. Plans were made to join with the Art club for a meeting early in the new year.

Arrangements for the picnic were in charge of the soical committee, Mrs. J. E. Crawmer, chairman, Miss Christine Rieck, Miss Dora Jacobs and Mrs. Don Hentze.

Personal Mention

Thomas J. Woodcock, a former resident of Marion who is now making his home in Detroit, is visiting friends here. He expects to return to Detroit the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Stricklin of Marion have returned home after a week's vacation in Illinois, Kentucky and Indiana.

Secretaries Hold Dinner Meeting At Hotel Harding

THE first dinner meeting of the recently organized chapter of the National Secretaries association was held Friday evening in the ballroom at Hotel Harding with covers placed for 35 members. Miss Kathryn Burke, president, presided for the business meeting which included the signing of the charter, adoption of a constitution and other organizing details. The local group will be known as the Marion chapter.

Serving with Miss Burke are the following officers: Miss Mary K. Miley, vice president; Miss Ferol M. Burley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Marty Maner, recording secretary and Miss Martha Fabian, treasurer.

The organization, composed only of women who are secretaries, has a three-fold purpose, social, educational and professional, the officers state. All have received pins bearing the emblem of the classic lamp of learning, its rays lighting the world and the letters B and L, "Better Letters and Better Living." Forty-one states are represented in the national organization which has a membership of more than 10,000 women.

The meeting opened with the collect by Miss Mary K. Miley and Miss Elizabeth Pace presided at the piano for the singing of the national song, "Our NSA." In addition to activities advancing the members in their profession the organization maintains an employment service for which there is no charge to employer or employe.

TRUMAN

now in New York for the United Nations assembly meeting, is expected to return as soon as possible after Mr. Truman arrives on Saturday to present the state department's case in favor of a special session call.

Two Arguments Seen

Opponents of the state department's view have been less outspoken than Marshall and Undersecretary Lovett but word from administration officials indicates that two arguments may be advanced:

► That the European nations probably can pull through on their own until the Marshall plan long-range recovery program can be put into effect next year and,

► That it would be a potentially dangerous move for the President to make for domestic political reasons.

There is considerable speculation within the administration over the position of Secretary of Commerce Harriman, chairman of the President's special committee studying United States resources for meeting European needs. Harriman told a news conference Thursday that Lovett had informed the committee of the situation in Europe, but the cabinet officer carefully avoided expressing his own opinion on the urgency of Europe's needs.

Truman To See Guns Of Missouri in Action

By The Associated Press

ABOARD U. S. S. MISSOURI WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN, Sept. 15 — President Truman gets a chance today to see this battleship's mighty 16-inch gunds in action.

Capt. Robert L. Dennison ordered 12 rounds fired in five salvos from No. 1 turret of the main battery.

A battery commander of the 129th Field Artillery in World War I, Mr. Truman showed a keen interest in preparations for the target practice.

The Missouri's position today was approximately 600 miles east by north from St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, and about 900 miles due north of Dutch Guiana.

TOWNSEND MEETING

tion counties. His senior year's program included eight sows and litters, 21 dairy cows, a poultry flock of 150 hens, 20 acres of oats, 20 acres of wheat and farm account records.

Since graduation Paul has assisted his parents in operating the home farm of 320 acres and has rented additional land. This year he purchased a new tractor and disc and rented 80 acres. He harvested a wheat crop from 40 acres, has 20 acres of soybeans, and 20 acres of land which will be seeded to wheat.

School Activities

While in high school Paul was active in dramatics, served as F. F. A. vice president, was a member of Morral F. F. A. chapter's business procedure and livestock judging teams, and participated in the district public speaking contest in 1943. He was also a member of the Marion County Junior Fair Board.

Since graduation Paul has been active in church, school and community organizations. He is president of the Youth Fellowship Group of Marion Epworth Methodist church, vice president of Morral Farmers' Institute, vice president of Marion County Youth Group, and master of Grand Prairie Grange.

Paul was nominated for the American Farmer Degree through the courtesy of the Harpster-Lewis F. F. A. chapter. He transferred his membership to that group when the Morral F. F. A. chapter became inactive due to the school's lack of a teacher of vocational agriculture and F. F. A. advisor.

WESTERNER RUNS AMUCK, KILLING THREE CHILDREN

Blames Slayings on Failure To Commit Him to Asylum.

By The United Press

OMAK, Wash., Sept. 15—A 31-year-old mill worker who ran amuck, killing his three children and injuring a neighbor's four-year-old daughter, moaned today "this wouldn't have happened, if they had put me in a hospital Saturday."

William Cary refused to say anything else about the brutal murder of his three children, except to utter unintelligible mumblings.

He was arrested immediately after the killings by two police officers who beat him into submission during a terrific struggle.

Police Chief Tom Johnson said Cary had suffered a head injury some years ago and was to have entered a hospital shortly for treatment of a mental condition.

PITTSBURGH — "Commando" Kelly, congressional medal of honor winner, is back at another trade, his third in two years.

But Kelly is doing what he wanted to do before the long arm of the Army touched him. He's painting.

The "one-man-army" operated a service station for 10 months after being discharged in 1945, but gave it up. Then Kelly went into politics. But, he said: "You can't live on politics."

So he went to work with a paint brush.

Commando Kelly says:

"Painting is a good trade. I feel I'm lucky to be a painter."

Unwanted Fortune Earned by Doctor Aids 12,613 Students

By The United Press

MARSHALL, Mo.—Thanks to a pioneer country doctor who made an unwanted fortune in proving a medical point, 12,613 Saline county boys and girls have received financial help toward educations in the last 90 years.

Dr. John Sappington was one of the outstanding physicians of his day. It was he who proved that quinine was the specific for malaria and whose pills helped open the west.

The old doctor was not seeking a fortune when he began compounding his quinine pills at his home at Arrow Rock, Mo., more than a century ago. He merely wanted to prove his point. Other doctors called him a quack.

Despite a book which he wrote describing how he made his pills, Dr. Sappington still made money. At his death in 1856, he left $40,000, half of which was set aside by will as a fund to be used in assisting worthy boys and girls of Saline county to obtain educations.

Each August the trustees of the fund meet to bring the total's up to date. The latest compilation shows that Dr. Sappington's $20,000 has grown to $84,700, of which $82,300 is invested in interest bearing securities and $2,400 is in cash.

Tuitions totaling $217,167.05 have been paid for 12,613 boys and girls.

Dr. Sappington not only was a leading doctor, surgeon and medical writer of his time but he also was a leading figure in Missouri life. Arrow Rock in his time was a citadel of culture on the frontier. He was related to the Marmadukes, a father and son of which family served as governors of Missouri.

While his proving of quinine as the specific for malaria was his great contribution, the $20,000 he left as a school fund has perpetuated his memory in his home county.

INVESTIGATE ROAD DEATH

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., Sept. 15—State highway patrolmen today investigated the death of Mrs. Rose Smith, 38, of Dayton, found fatally injured yesterday on route 35, near New London, O. Discovered by a passing motorist, she was taken to Good Samaritan hospital here where she died of multiple fractures and other injuries. The highway patrol advanced the theory she either fell or was thrown from an automobile.

G.O.P. ANGLERS FISH NEW POND

Dewey Invades New England, Taft Heads for L. A. in Nomination Race.

By The Associated Press

Two potential candidates for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination moved into new territory today to sound out their chances.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York invaded New England for the first time since his 1944 campaign.

And, following Dewey's not-yet-cold footsteps in the west, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio headed for Los Angeles and two important policy speeches in his tour to "help me make up my mind" whether to seek the nomination.

Officially, Dewey went to Springfield, Mass., to attend the eastern states exposition. Unofficially, the trip threw him in contact with G O P. governors or their close aides from eight eastern seaboard states.

Other Republicans Busy

Elsewhere there were reminders that other Republicans regard the race as still wide open. These included:

►A declaration by Senator Capper of Kansas that "all over the United States there are good Americans who look forward to the possibility of helping elect" Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as president on a Republican ticket.

►Predictions by two other G.O.P. senators, Ball of Minnesota and McCarthy of Wisconsin, that former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, the only avowed candidate, will be a serious contender at the convention and that no candidate will win the nomination on the first ballot.

"Harold Stassen will be up in there," said Ball.

"Governor Dewey has got to win on the first ballot or he is beaten," said McCarthy. Both were interviewed in Washington.

Keeps Eisenhower "In"

Capper, in a broadcast at Topeka, kept the Eisenhower talk alive with an assertion that unless the general takes himself out of the picture "by some unequivocal statement, he will be a factor in the Republican convention at Philadelphia whether or not he is an announced candidate."

Eisenhower, who will take over the presidency of Columbia university in New York when he retires next year as Army chief of staff, has insisted that he will have nothing to do with movements to "draft" him for the nomination. He has not said, however, that he would refuse to run if nominated.

20 LOST IN SINKING OF EXCURSION BOAT

By The Associated Press

GLASGOW, SCOTLAND, Sept. 15—Twenty persons, mostly women or children, were dead or missing and feared lost in the sinking of the excursion boat "Ocean," which foundered last night in heavy seas in the Firth of Clyde.

Only three of 23 aboard the 50-foot motor cutter were known to have survived. Five members of one family were among the missing.

Search for the missing, abandoned at midnight, was resumed this morning in the two-mile wide stretch of the firth where the craft went down after being buffeted by a southerly gale.

RICKENBACKER

"to take our battle stations for a knockdown, drawnout war of nerves against forces who have nothing to offer but slavery and shackles—whose goal is not to improve mankind but to imprison it"

erans to be "on the alert against communism."

"A handful of individuals—and I am proud to say that I served among them—had the courage to stand up and speak against Communism in the days when Washington looked and talked like a suburb of Moscow," he said.

LONG ROAD BACK—With a snarl of annoyance, Willy Foerster, a German citizen who is being repatriated from Japan to Germany, protests loudly as a photographer takes his picture aboard the transport William M. Black in Yokahama. The wealthy Nazi, who refused to cooperate in surrendering his properties estimated at 7 millions, spent three months under house arrest before he was placed aboard the departing ship. U. S. AIR FORCE the air Force requirements at the expense of the other services, it is still necessary to estimate the air requirements in terms of the job to be done.

Lowest Possible Figure

"The lowest figure which the Air Force believes it can get, and which has not yet been accomplished, is for a 70-group force, in instant readiness."

Symington said the estimate for an overall strength of 400,000 officers and men was based on two primary considerations:

"One is the need for such strength in being as will provide such defenses, and such capacity for retaliatory long-range destructive assault as will deter any potential aggressor from risking the consequences of war with the U. S. The other is the requirement for an adequate foundation to greatly expand the Air Force, which of course would be necessary in the event of war."

Symington lauded General of the Army Henry H. Arnold, who retired from the air force after leading America's aerial fighters through World War II, as "the man who more than any single American is responsible for that part of our national security act of 1947 which creates the United States Air Force." Arnold, now living in California, was unable to attend the convention because of ill health.

Symington suggested that the convention "send a resolution of gratitude and good cheer to General Hap Arnold."

Have Traditions

"As a fighting force," Symington said, "we have our own traditions and standards, established and refined in the crucible of war. As a department, we have a new course to plot.

"From now on we bear the full responsibility for our actions, our failure to act. We have the responsibility for maintaining the trust and confidence of the nation in our ability to carry our full share of the national security program."

Tonight the associataion will hear General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff and Gen. Carl A. (Tooey) Spaatz, AAF commander.

By way of inaugurating the convention, 30 P-80 jet fighters were scheduled to give an exhibition of high-speed formation flying at 9 a. m. saluting Ohio's state capital and the visiting air corps vets.

MRS. JOSIE MOFFETT DIES AT PROSPECT

Illness of Year Fatal at Home of Son.

Special to The Star

PROSPECT, Sept. 15—Mrs. Josie Bitler Moffett, 83, died in the home of a son, Harry Tobey, here Sunday night following an illness of a year. Born May 4, 1864, in York township, Union county, she was a daughter of Elisha and Lavina Thompson Bitler, natives of Columbus. Her husband, Rev. W. R. Moffett, died some time ago. She was a member of the Ladies Aid society of the Church of Christ in York township. Surviving besides the son by a former marriage, with whom she made her home, are another son, Harland Moffett of Medina, three grandchilden, eight great-grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Helen Emmons of Marion.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 3 p. m. in the Tobey home by Rev. Emory Penhorwood of Lima and Rev. A. O. Long of Prospect. Burial will be in Prospect cemetery. Friends may call after 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Tobey home on Park street.

FORERUNNER OF AUTUMN OVERSPREADS NORTH U.S.

Possibility of Light Frosts in Minnesota, Wisconsin Forecast.

By The Associated Press

A forerunner of autumn was overspreading all the north central states today with the possibility that it might bring light scattered frosts tonight to northern and central sections of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The Chicago weather bureau said the mercury probably would dip to the middle 30's tonight in both those states and to the lower 40's generally elsewhere in the central and upper midwest.

Maximum readings of 51 in Minnesota to 70 in Iowa were in prospect for the area today, the bureau said.

Scattered showers with continued warm weather was forecast for the south, while the northeastern states could expect fair and warmer followed by scattered showers.

The Rocky Mountain states would have partly cloudy and warmer weather, the bureau said, with generally fair forecast for the west coast states.

British Taking View Mandate Over Palestine Must Be Ended

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Government sources in London tell us that British official opinion has veered around to the view that Britain's mandate over Palestine must end—an attitude which may be expected to have a marked influence on consideration of the problem of the Holy Land when it comes before the United Nations assembly which resumes deliberations Tuesday.

This generation-old issue is one of the most controversial and at the same time complicated questions with which the assembly will have to struggle. One of the first things to be considered will be the explosive report recently rendered by the special UN committee. The majority recommended that Palestine be partitioned into Jewish and Arab states, with an economic union. The holy cities of Jerusalem and Bethlehem would be autonomous.

DewittMackenzie

Britain submitted the Palestine question to the UN and this in itself was an indication that she felt the present mandate couldn't go on—that she would have to quit ultimately. The London government long has been getting collossal kicks from all sides, and has come to regard the stewardship as a thankless task.

Recent Weeks Are Bad

Incidents of recent weeks have made Britain particularly sorry for herself. At the end of July the British military in Palestine executed three members of Irgun Zvai Leumi, the illegal underground army, and Irgun in retaliation hanged two British soldiers. Widespread anti-Semetic incidents followed in England.

Within the past few days we have witnessed the unhappy "Exodus 1947" incident, involving the British action in shipping back to Hamburg some 4,400 Jewish refugees who had tried to reach Palestine on the Exodus. Many of the passengers were disembarked by force when they resisted the British military, and Britain was widely criticized for an action which the United States had tried to dissuade her from taking.

Simultaneously the Paris police uncovered the alleged plot to bomb London, at least with propaganda, from an airplane. This was attributed to sympathizers with the underground Stern gang, and 11 people, including an American rabbi, were arrested.

No Security for British

So trouble has multiplied through the years until there is no security for the British in an area which has so much hostility toward them, and Palestine isn't the only tough spot, for neighboring Egypt daily is demonstrating against Britain for continuing to maintain troops in the land of the Pharoahs.

However, despite the fact that Britain is fed up with her mandate, we must expect her to play a cautious game until she sees what May grow out of the proposal for the division of Palestine between Jews and Arabs. It should be noted that Palestine is highly valuable military base for protection of England's interests in the Middle East especially the rich Iraq oil fields.

True, the British are in process of shifting their main base further south to East Africa but before they abandon Palestine they want to know if the United Nations can safeguard the territory. Therefore I think we shall find that the British military mind, which moves cautiously, will do some high level calculating before agreeing to throw up the mandate entirely.

U.S. ASKED TO CUT MEAT CONSUMPTION

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND Sept. 15—Secretary of Commerce Harriman today asked the American people to "voluntarily reduce" their consumption of meat to help feed the people of western Europe.

Harriman said this is one—and the better—of only three ways he knows in which this country can provide Europe with food necessary to make the Marshall plan of recovery work and "avert anarchy and chaos" in the world.

In an address prepared for a luncheon of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce and the Cleveland World Trade organization, Harriman named two other ways:

To "reinstitute government controls," but "even if it were considered desirable to do so," he said, adequate controls could hardly be established in time to be effective during this crop year.

"To bid up the price of wheat to a point where it will not be profitable to feed it to animals."

Ohioan Shot to Death During Family Quarrel

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15—A family quarrel ended in death yesterday for John Harlan, 31, of Liberty, Ind., and Sheriff C. Taylor Handman said the victim's brother-in-law would be charged with murder.

Harlan received a fatal shotgun blast in the abdomen during an argument at the home of the brother-in-law, Pearl Samples, in neighboring Harrison, O., near the Indiana state line, Handman said. Samples was lodged in Hamilton county jail immediately following the shooting on a charge of shooting to kill. Harlan died several hours later.

Sound Film Shown For Calvary Society

When the W.S.W.S. of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church met Thursday night, a sound motion picture film, "We Bear Witness," was shown by J. E. Frew, and a program was carried out in a "first day of school" theme. The picture dealt with evidences of Christian work in Japan. For the program, Miss Vera Stull was "teacher." Others present were the "pupils." Devotions were by Mrs. Lucy Clyne and Mrs. Linna Klinefelter, and prayers were by Miss Wilma Click and Mrs. Alice Rueger. Miss Stull led the class in the Lord's prayer. A trio composed of Mrs. Elsie Feaver, Mrs. Mildred Kuntz and Mrs. Coral Jobe sang, and the study chapter was presented as a reading lesson by Mrs. Jobe. Miss Hazel Berringer, Mrs. Edna Zachman, Mrs. Kuntz and Miss Medelia Seiter. At "recess," cupcakes were served, following which "school" resumed, and an "arithmetic lesson" consisted of reports. Plans were made for an all-day work meeting next Tuesday when sewing will be done for overseas relief, and Mrs. E. E. Nietz of Columbus will conduct study on stewardship.

CATHOLICS AT CLEVELAND FETE 100TH ANNIVERSARY

10,000 Attend Diocese's Birthday Ceremonies.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Sept. 15—A throng of some 10,000 attended an all-day program yesterday that marked the beginning celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Cleveland Catholic diocese.

The ceremonies took place as three new homes were dedicated at Parmadale, and Rev. William O'Donnell, pastor of Our Lady of Mount Carmel church delivered the sermon.

Tracing the growth of the diocese—he said all the Catholics in the 33 counties of northern Ohio in 1846 would hardly equal one large parish today—Father O'Donnell declared:

"The parish life of the diocese has been matched by an equally extensive growth in the field of education and social work of all kinds.

"The diocese of Cleveland has been diminished in size from 33 to eight counties. Parishes have been divided repeated, and still standing room only is found by many of the people at the masses."

BAPTIST PLANNING CONFERENCE HELD

75 Attend Trinity Church Event at Garfield Park.

Approximately 75 persons attended the planning conference of Trinity Baptist church held Sunday afternoon at Garfield park. Following the morning worship service at the church, a picnic dinner was served at the park, with conference following and vesper service climaxing the entire meeting at 4 o'clock, closed a "profitable and worthwhile afternoon," Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor, reported. Guests at the vesper service who presented special music of Negro spirituals and a message, were Rev. E. R. Robinson, Negro evangelist, and Mrs. Robinson.

Opening the afternoon conference were simultaneous meetings of the Sunday school and youth groups planning their fall work, followed by sessions of the various organizations, including Women's society, Men's Brotherhood and board of education. After this, in a general conference, correlation of the entire program was made, with arrangements for a fall evangelistic campaign and visitation program preceding, discussed, together with plans for rally day in the Church school. Cooperation with communitywide religious events will include participation in the Christ for the World program which will be held in Marion the last weekend in September, Rev. Holloway stated.

DETROLA PROFITS UP FOR NINE MONTHS

DETROIT, Sept 15—Net profit of International Detrola Corporation and subsidiaries (including Universal Cooler division at Marion) for the nine months ended July 31 and $1,139,907.88 after tax provision, compared to $950,700.91 in the similar 1945-46 fiscal period, President C. Russell Feldmann informed shareholders today in an unaudited income summary accompanying dividend checks. Sales were $53,028,515.81 against $25,790,435.91 in the 1945-46 quarters.

The increase in net to equal 93 cents per share, compared to 78 cents in the same three quarters of the previous year does not fully indicate the increase in operating profit, the president commented today.

"Operating profits showed a much greater gain," Feldmann said, "with $1,655,651.34 and figure for the recent nine months against $308,024.87 in the compared prior period." The contrast carries over less strongly into end results, he pointed out, because in 1945-46 the company had a nonrecurring profit of $769,025.35 on sale of a California plant.

The current figures include operations of the company's extensive steel division, with open hearths, rolling mill and fabricating facilities and coal mine acquired in August, 1946, and a blast furnace acquired several months ago. Also included for the first time are operations of the Universal Cooler Company of Canada, Ltd., which on Feb. 3, 1947 became a wholly-owned subsidiary. Detrola had owned controlling interest since 1945.

Detrola, which on July 31 had 1,221,895 shares of common stock outstanding, has manufacturing plants in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, California, and Ontario, Canada, and produces steel and steel products, coal, refrigerating and air conditioning units, home and automobile radios, phonographs, special machinery, aircraft power plants and sub-assemblies and other items.

Another Note

On the other side of the paper were the following:

"You know the byby shirt is just an underware shirt. Do as we say or else."

The father of the Smigelski boy said he waited for his son as he came out of church yesterday morning and confronted him with the kidnap note found by his mother. The boy told conflicting stories, police said, the father told them. As a result the father took the boy with him to FBI headquarters here.

The youth broke down under questioning and told the story of his long resentment over household chores and his plan to prove that he was no sissy.

Police Inspector James Hanna of Kearny said the statement told of a long battling between the two boys in the warehouse, the two grappling and punching and threatening each other with pieces of broken glass before Smigelski subdued his younger antagonist.

Inspector Hanna said the youth's statement told how he lured the Preston boy from Kearny to the warehouse after school Friday on the pretense of finding a secret hideout and then attacked the boy. After strangling Jackie with a belt, Smigelski told his statement of gashing the boy's chest and wrist with broken glass. The statement said Smigelski then went to a nearby diner, washed his hands in the lavatory, drank a bottle of soda and hwent home.

HERBERT DEFENDS SPECIAL VOTE DATES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept 15—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert today defended his action in setting the dates of Oct. 7 and Nov. 4 for a special primary and election to name a successor to Robert F. Jones as Fourth district congressman.

Both Francis W. Durbin, state Democratic central committeeman, and Dewey Fetter of Lima, chairman of the Allen county Republican executive committee and a candidate for the Republican nomination for the post, have protested the registration ruling of Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins resulting from the dates fixed. Jenkins held that no registrations could be accepted after Sept. 9.

"There was nothing to bar those who wanted to vote from registering on the regular registration dates which ended Sept. 9," Governor Herbert said.

Copies were sent to local boards of elections today.

Two Brothers Sent To Columbus Workhouse

James R. Wharton, 22, and Kenneth E. Wharton, 24, both of Port Clinton, O., were arraigned in municipal court Monday on a triple charge of intoxication, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. They were each fined $10 and costs, for the first count, $25 and costs for the second and sentenced to 30 days in Columbus workhouse for the third charge.

The two brothers were arrested by city police at 10:55 p. m. Saturday on West Columbia street when they were found creating a disturbance in the home of a relative where they were visiting at when they were found creating a the time police said.

Amvets Post Launches Drive To Observe Charter Week

This week, Sept 15 to 20 has been designated as Amvet... local charter membership drive week in commemoration ... signing of the Amvets national charter by President Truma... July 23, this year. Members of the local Glen W. Ashworth ... No. 28 have opened a campaign for members as a part of the national drive.

The signing of this document gave Amvets the same legal status as the American Legion, Disabled Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the United Spanish War Veterans, the only other veterans groups holding congressional charters.

Mayor Harry L. Dowler gave his official approval to the Amvet national charter membership drive week in a proclamation announced today.

Designating the days as the ones on which the organization is to conduct the campaign, Mayor Dowler urged all the citizens of the city "to observe the week and to do honor and respect to that organization and the ideals for which it was formed."

Amvets, with its more than 120,000 members and over 1,200 posts, was organized in 1943. It now has posts in all the 48 states, the District of Columbia and Hawaii. Under its charter, the organization lists three prime objectives (1) to work for the promotion of peace, (2) to work for the preservation of the American way of life, and (3) to promote legislation and measures designed to help the veteran help himself.

Honor Local Man

Glen W. Ashworth post, chartered by the national department May 23, 1946, was named after the first Marion soldier to give his life in the service. Marion Amvets are dedicated to a program of civic and national welfare indicated by their interest in all phases of the national program. Plans are underway by the local group to sponsor a juvenile recreational group in the near future and also matters of civic interest.

Officers of the Marion post are: Paul Simpson, commander; Robert Ruhlman, adjutant; Harold Ralston, first vice commander; Robert Dornbaugh, second vice commander; Herman Miller, third vice commander; Alex Kostopules, finance officer; Leo Belknap, public relations; Charles Moffitt, provost marshall; John Schwartz, service officer and Valjean Brady, legislative.

All veterans of World War II are urged to visit the local post club rooms at 139 North Main street during the membership drive.

RELEASED ON BOND

James Gibbon Smith, 24, of 210½ North Main street and Edward W. Almendinger, 22, of the Snyder hotel, pleaded not guilty in municipal court today when charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct and each was released under $100 bond. The two were arrested by city police at 3:40 a. m. today at the L and K. restaurant on West Center street where they were reported to be creating a disturbance, police said. Charges were filed by Vincent Corwin of 328 Olney avenue this morning. A hearing is scheduled for Tuesday at 9 a. m.

PEACE WITH ITALY BEGINS OFFICIALLY

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Sept. 15 — B... France, Russia and the U... States deposited instruments of ratification for the Italian treaty with the French government today and fixed ... GMT (7 p. m. EST) as the official hour of the beginning of peace for Italy.

Peace treaties written by the victorious Allies for Italy, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria were to be activated in similar fashion during the day by deposit of ratification instruments in Moscow.

As the Russian and American ambassadors and the British minister handed him their respective copies of the Italian treaty ratification instruments, French Foreign Minister Bidault commented: "This is the result of our painful effort. I hope it will permit us to enter a long period of peace."

All four Big Four representatives then signed a protocol stating that they had deposited the instruments and declaring the treaty in force as of midnight. The signature ceremony lasted exactly 3 minutes.

Talks on World Problems

Dr. Foote spoke on the trend toward "disintegration" with which he declared the world is faced "in reality" today in the areas of economics, trade barriers; spiritual understanding, religion reduced to a nonentity, ignored, lack of faith in a "living, personal God"; and political insecurity, rising tide of nationalism, divergence in ideology of democracy, men training again for battle. Stressing that "all the problems of the world are essentially spiritual," he maintained that the "burden of these difficulties of the world lies in its refusal to be Christian." There is hope in the United Nations, but, far from being united, in actuality now, the great need is for the nations to go, "mutually, to an altar," he told the audience It is the task of "the church of the living God so to build into its children a faith in God and in Christianity" that the oncoming generations will unreservedly take the issues of mankind to the feet of Christ, and, in the name of love, and in the name of Christ, to seek through Him healing for all the wounds of the world"

Following were the meetings of the discussion groups on programs activities and problems, separated as to Church school departmental classifications

BRUINS WIN ONE GAME, LOSE TWO IN WEEKEND SERIES

Bobzean Sparks Lone Victory; Final Home Tilt Slated Tonight

By DON C BURTON

The Marion Cubs returned to hustling play last night and defeated the Richmond Roses, 6-3, in the final game of the season between the two clubs here after losing Saturday night, 6-4 and by an identical score Sunday afternoon

The final game of the regular season is booked for tonight when the Lima Terriers will play the Cubs to make up for a game rained out here Labor day when the Cubs were leading, 11-7

Gene Bobzean was the big gun for Marion in last nights game as he drove in all six runs for the Cubs Gene hit a single for two runs in the fourth and followed with a three-run circuit clout in the sixth and ended the Marion scoring by driving in a run with an infield forceout in the seventh

Bill Rosin returned to duty on the mound for Marion after being out with a broken finger since July 30 He broke the finger while he was bunting against the same Richmond club Last nights win gave Rosy a record of 11 wins and four loses Jim Saboms Jitts Lawrence and Frank Smith have each won 10 games

John Smith and Bob Shuford come up with several nice plays to keep Rosin out of danger although the Cubs were behind until Bobzean hit his homer in the sixth

Smith went far back of third for a foul in the third and followed it with a stop back of and near the line, to win the decision at first with a rifle throw Smith handled seven chances without a miscue and none were easy Shuford went back to the fence in right twice to pull down two drives with one hand while running at top speed

In the Saturday night game Frank Smith suffered his seventh loss of the year when the Roses, whom he had shutout last Monday, hit him for 13 safe hits including four by Bob Verrier and three by Bob Pottenger Pete Swain was the winner for the Roses

John Graney was the victim of a 15-hit attack by the Roses in the Sunday afternoon game. John was wild in the fourth and walked four men in addition to allowing three hits which accounted for the Richmond run Mick Coughlin, fresh from a season in the Class C Western association, was the winning hurler for the Hoosiers.

ZANESVILLE CLINCHES LEAGUE'S PENNANT

By The Associated Press

Zanesville's Dodgers clinched the Ohio State league pennant over the weekend and today marked time with Marion, Muncie and Springfield for the start of the Shaughnessy playoffs after the circuit's extended season closes next Sunday.

The Dodgers won two of three weekend games from Dayton's Indians, but the Saturday night 4-1 victory was the one they'd been waiting for since they snatched the league-lead back in June, holding it firmly from then on

In yesterday's anti-climactic double bill they pounded the Indians 9-3 in the opener, before the Tribe came back to nose out southpaw Sandy Lambert, the league's standout hurler, 8-7 The defeat was Lambert's eighth of the campaign against 23 victories Clarence Anderson's opener triumph was his 15th victory compared with only six setbacks

Newark's Browns, the one club still with a mathematical chance to reach the playoffs, was headed in the right direction with a double victory over fourth place Springfield, six full games beyond the playoff wire Newark stopped the Giants in the middle of a hot streak, 8-7 and 6-2.

Third place Muncie divided with Lima, winning 5-1 after losing 6-4

League President Frank Colley is expected to announce playoff details within a few days

Auto Speed Mark Set But Not for Records

By The Associated Press

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS Sept 15—John Cobb sent his 7,700-pound racing car across the measured mile on this western Utah speedway yesterday at a faster pace than ever attained on land before, but bad luck continued to dog him and prevented the return run required for recognition of a new world record He announced he would make a new attempt Tuesday.

The Londoner sent his 24-cylinder Behemoth over the mile at 370 75 miler per hour compared with his own 1939 record of 368 9 miles per hour, an dover the kilometer course at 375 32 fastest speed ever attained man except in the air

Cobb's previous kilometer mark in 1939 was 369 7 mph.

BABE'S SUCCESSOR? Now that Babe Didrikson Zaharias has turned pro, sports writers have begun touting blonde, beautiful Audrey Erickson as the girl to take her place among the amateurs She can boot a football 40 to 50 yards, once bowled a three-game series of nearly 600 and excels at softball field hockey swimming, table tennis and horseback riding

Roseberry Scores Only TD As Locals Take Revenge

By GEORGE ROEST

Safety Cub Angels, making history repeat in reverse, defeated Worthington Independents semi-pro football squad, 6-0, at Harding stadium Saturday night.

Last season Worthington defeated the locals by an identical score

Approximately 1,500 fans saw the evenly matched teams vie for the upper hand Worthington piled up a greater number of first downs, but Marion picked up 100 yards rushing to Worthington's 95 and scored a grand slam on passing with 95 yards gained on six completions in 12 attempts, while Worthington gained only 16 on two completions in 12

Score in First

Marion picked up its score late in the first quarter, Berry recovering a fumble on the Marion 48 to put the drive in order Reams picked up eight yards and Marion tried a sleeper, Simmons to Roseberry, on the next play

The referee ruled interference with the pass receiver and Marion got the ball on the Worthington 15 Ivey, Scott, and Simmons advanced the ball to the 5 and a first down

Worthinton stiffened, forcing Marion back one yard on two plays, then Reams tossed to Roseberry in the end zone Martin Lewis' attempted place kick went wide

Play In Visitor's Yard

From then on play was mostly in Worthingtons territory. Marion penetrating to the two yard marker in the fourth quarter Worthington's deepest thrust was to Marion's 24, from where they were forced back losing the balls on downs on the 32

Ten Worthington fumbles five recovered by Marion, helped to keep the visitors from going very far The win made Marion's record two wins and no losses

Competition for the Angels apparently isn't going to get any softer as Dayton Merchants are on the schedule Sunday at Dayton The Merchants, reportedly tough, are new to the Marion schedule

IOWA TO OPEN BIG 9 FOOTBALL SATURDAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept 15—The honor of opening the 1947 Big Nine football season goes to Iowa this week.

The Hawkeyes raise the curtain Saturday as hosts to North Dakota State, a team which they walloped, 39-0, last year

Other conference schools open their season a week from Saturday with Pittsburgh at Illinois, Indiana at Nebraska, Michigan State at Michigan, Washington at Minnesota, Missouri at Ohio State and Purdue at Wisconsin in the initial Big Nine contest

Some spectacular running and passing featured intra-squad scrimmages Saturday as Big Nine gridders concluded their second week of drills

At Ohio State, Rodney Swinehart, a second team sophomore halfback, zipped 35 yards through the mud on one play, blocked well on the next and then wheeled over tackle for 22 yards and a touchdown on the third

Purdue's varsity racked a 38-0 score over the reserves with three backs scoring two touchdowns apiece Left half Harry Szulborski counted on passes from quarterback Bob DeMoss, fullback Jack Milito plunged 12 yards and returned an intercepted pass 35 yards, right half Dick Bushnell scored on runs of 24 and 20 yards

At Michigan, Chalmers "Bump" Elliott from Bloomington Ill drove to four touchdowns—two on scampers of 50 and 60 yards and another pair on short stabs through the line

Blue Birds "Win" Game At Cardington Tourney

The Blue Birds had a victory tossed their way in the Cardington independent baseball tournament yesterday Upper Sandusky scheduled opponent failed to show

Next Sunday the Blue Birds are scheduled against Centerburg, a squad which defeated Ferri-Bob Grill of Columbus, 8-2 yesterday The other game of yesterday's session resulted in Ashley handing Galena an 8-2 defeat

Dry Whisker Is Tough Customer, Says Expert

By The United Press

NEW YORK—Elbridge J Casselman, 52, who in the last 15 years has conducted 25,000 shaving tests, has some advice for men

In the first place, he says, a dry whisker is harder than annealed copper. Any beard, whether it be of the tough brunette type or the softer blonde type, should be softened for at least three minutes Any kind of soap will do, Casselman says

A good blade and a well-designed razor are necessities, he says He warned that the longer the shaver scrapes his chin the more skin he will remove and that while shaving against the grain takes off the whiskers rapidly, the man also runs a greater risk of cutting himself.

Casselman estimated that only five per cent of shavers use up a blade with each shave, and said the average man gets 44 shaves out of a blade. He said that one in four shaves daily beards grow 5 mm per day, but faster in summer, they grow faster on the farm than in the city.

HAVE WINNING FACES

By The United Press

NEWPORT, R I — When it comes to faces, you can't beat the Chases—or the Chaces Winner of the "Miss Newport" title in a beauty contest was Miss Shirley Chace of Newport, with Miss Norma Chase of New Brunswick, N. J., the runner-up

After Weekend Victories, Bums Should Undergo Saliva Test If They Blow Flag

By The Associated Press

It's all over but the shouting If Brooklyn blows the National league pennant now, every member of the Dodgers including Manager Burt Shotton ought to be made to undergo a saliva test

The crushing blow to the Cardinals' fast fading hopes was delivered by remote control yesterday when the rampaging Brooks routed the Reds twice in a Cincinnati doubleheader, 13-2 and 6-3, while the Cards were being trampled in St Louis, 9-1 by the New York Giants

As a result, the Doogers upped their margin over the Cards to seven full games They can clinch the flag by winning seven of their remaining 15 Any combination of seven Dodger victories and Card losses would dethrone the world champion Cardinals

Already "in" were the New York Yankees in the American league Following their 6-4 win over the St Louis Browns at the Yankee stadium the worst the Bronx Bombers can get now is a tie One more win or Boston defeat would end all mathematical chance of the Red Sox

Yesterday's twin bill between Boston and Chicago was rained out after seven innings of the first game with the score tied at 1-1

Although the Detroit Tigers walloped the Senators twice in Washington 16-6 and 6-4 to move past the Red Sox into second place, they were mathematically eliminated from any pennant hopes when the Yankees won They trail by 12½ games The fifth place Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Cleveland Indians, 11-9 in the first game of a doubleheader The second game ended in a 4-4 tie, halted at the end of nine innings by the 7 p m Pennsylvania curfew law

Held to a split in a doubleheader in Chicago the Boston Braves in the National league were officially eliminated from any pennant contention Lt Warren Spahn pitched a 1-0 triumph for the Braves in the opener, but Johnny Schmitz chucked a 6-1 eight-hit victory for the Cubs in the second game The Giants, too, despite their victory, saw their last flag hopes disappear

The Philadelphia Phils vacated the cellar to make room for Pittsburgh as they dumped the Pirates twice, 7-3 and 9-7, in a doubleheader in Pittsburgh. The Pirates hold seventh place by half a game

Cubs Battle To Hold Grip On 2nd Place

Now that the Zanesville Dodgers have clinched the Ohio State league pennant the Marion Cubs, who pushed the leaders most of the season, find themselves struggling to remain in second place ahead of the surging Muncie Packers.

The Cubs have eight more games to play including two final game here with Lima games are on tap with Dayton the Indians' Wigwam Tuesday and Wednesday and then the Cubs go to Springfield for five games four days with the fourth Giants ending with two Sunday

The league playoffs are due to start Monday between the Dodgers and the team finishing in the final spot which at this time appears to be Springfield.

The series will consist of games or until one team has four contests The first two games will be played in Zanesville, the next three in the place town and the final if needed will go back to Zanesville.

The other half of the playoffs will be played between the second and third place teams in a like series It will start in the city finishing in second place in the final standings After the games the series will go to Dayton for three games if needed and then back for the other two, if needed

The finals in the playoffs will be a seven games or less series to start in the city which finished higher in the standings

Should the Dodgers win the semi-finals against the fourth placers it will start in Zanesville Should they lose the semi-finals then the finals will start in the city winning the series between the second and third placers

Players do not share in the receipts of the playoff games but get a regular salary in addition to a part of the season-long players' pool During the regular season one cent from each admission around the league is put in the players' pool to be divided among the first four teams and the playoff winners and runners-up

Of the players fund 30 per cent will be divided among the eligible players on the pennant club The second place team members will get 15 per cent of the pool The third place club will get 10 per cent and the fourth place team five per cent Of the 40 per cent remaining the playoff winners will receive 25 per cent and the runnersup 15 per cent

The receipts taken in during the playoffs will be divided with 40 per cent going to the home team and a like percentage to the visitors and 20 per cent to the league The players will also get their regular salaries during the playoffs.

FIRE SURVIVOR. Owner of a pet shop in Hollywood, Calif., S. C. Lloyd holds a badly singed cat "Snowball," one of the few survivors of a fire which destroyed his store. The blaze killed thousands of tropical fish, 100 snakes, 75 rare lizards and dozens of valuable birds.

TRIESTE MOB RIOTS ON CITY'S BIRTHDAY

By The United Press

TRIESTE, Sept. 15—Mob violence broke out here today, the formal birthday of the free territory of Trieste, with bands of hoodlums chasing American newsmen and stoning, kicking and stripping Britons.

It was a birthday boding ill for the future of the free zone at the top of the Adriatic which was Italian before the war, claimed by Yugoslavia, and internationalized as a compromise.

Mobs massed in some strength in the center of Trieste. Fighting broke out at several points as Italian-Slovene animosity flared. Street cars and buses were halted, and several were damaged.

An attack on a British couple touched off the more violent phase of the disturbances. They emerged after mass from the San Gusto cathedral. Carrying a Communist newspaper, they strolled into a crowd of excited Italians.

Police identified the couple as Edward P. Thompson, 23, British writer and former officer of the 17th Lancers; and Mrs. Dorothy K. Gane-Sale 24, Cambridge graduate from London. They had spent the last two months watching the work of the Sarajevo youth on the Sarajevo-Samach railway, and returned today from Yugoslavia on their way home.

N.Y.C.-C. AND O. BID FOR MERGER PLACED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15—Robert R. Young of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad presented his bid to the interstate commerce commission today for an interlocking directorate with the New York Central, looking to eventual consolidation of the two lines.

As Young, C. and O. board chairman, and Robert S. Bowman, C. and O. president, prepared to press their petitions for authority to take seats on the NYC board, the C. and O.'s executive committee met here to divest itself of control of the Nickel Plate railroad.

Nickel Plate is now one of the Young roads, but since it operates with New York Central, the process of ending C. and O. control is considered a requisite to the proposed affiliation with NYC.

After a plan for selling Nickel Plate to the Pennsylvania railroad failed to materialize, C. and O. decided to distribute its 192,400 shares on that road as a dividend worth approximately $6,000,000 to C. and O. stockholders. The ICC last week adopted a "hands off" policy on this proposed distribution, ruling it had no jurisdiction.

DROPPED IN TRANSIT

By The United Press

FORT WAYNE, Ind.—When a farmer found a woman's purse in his wheat field, police were afraid its owner might have met with foul play. But Margaret Ferne Rennie, Detroit, said she had dropped it from an airplane while she took a short "joy ride."

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

MARY wrinkled her nose at me impudently, but I knew from the expression in her eyes that she was weighing carefully what I had been saying.

"And when you finally complete your soul-searching," she said, "what will your answer be?"

I threw all qualms to the winds. She was entitled to the truth as I saw it.

"An unqualified 'Yes' to the proposition that I keep on with my work," I told her. "But," I added, before she could speak, "always with the proviso that if at any time I found my work interfering with my child's welfare or happiness, I would give up the work. I would feel that I had no right to bring a child into the world if I did not put that child before anything else."

Mary's movement from her chair to mine was like the swoop of a graceful bird through the air, and took little more time. Then her arms were round me in a smothering embrace.

"You world's wonder!" she exclaimed extravagantly. "I knew you'd come up with the right answer!"

Quizzical Smile

I smiled at her quizzically.

"The 'right' answer being the one on which you already had decided," I said, and her blush was vivid.

"Ye-es," she said slowly, "I acknowledge the corn, and all the other grains. But—" her eyes clouded again—"I don't know how Noel's going to take my decision. I suppose, if he's too insistent, I'll probably yield. After all, my marriage is more important than my profession."

"A most laudable sentiment," I said, smiling to hide the hot protest within me. Noel's position was so arrogant, so unreasonable, that if I had not believed him to be so carried away by a romantic theory as to be blinded to what he really was facing, I am afraid I would have said things which would have cause Mary to spring valiantly to his defense and throw her role in my play back into Philip Veritzen's face.

"I'm afraid you don't mean it," she said, with a little moue at me. "But maybe Noel doesn't mean all he was saying, either."

Floating on Clouds

"I'm sure he doesn't," I told her, "He's floating on the top of the clouds just now. You must give him time to get down to earth."

"But," she said, puzzled, "how will I explain my going on with the study of my lines to him? I imagine he'll expect me to cut that all out."

I clenched my fingers in exasperation, and followed the old adjuration from Dickens: "Count five-and-twenty, Tatty Coram!"

Then I threw a cloud of dust into the face of what Dicky used to call my "Puritan conscience."

"I've heard you quote a homely old saying many times," I began, and Mary, who had been lounging in her chair after releasing me from her bear hug, sat up quickly and interrupted me ruthlessly.

"Don't tell me you're saying: 'What Noel doesn't know won't hurt him!'" she exclaimed with a gamin grin. "Why, Auntie Madge! Your Puritan ancestors must be whirling in their respective sepulchres! But," she added reflectively, "I'll admit the old saw has its points. And of course, I never would be doing any studying while Noel was home—that is, if I get back to my old form pretty soon. Otherwise, I'd have to be at it night and day."

I caught back a smile just in time. But I realized that, notwithstanding her expressed loyalty to Noel's opinion, she was clinging to the hope that he could be won over to her desire to keep on with her profession.

Sky Will Be Limit

"Don't worry about that angle," I told her. "You'll be back in your form, and at the top of it very soon, I give you my word on that. Just take it easy for a day or two, and then the sky will be the limit, as you're so fond of saying."

"I'm in your hands," she answered me, "and I promise to obey you as if you were Simon Legree with a lash over my shrinking back. The only trouble is, you won't be prodding me to work but away from it. I'm sorry I delayed the game this way. May we get started now?"

I hesitated for an instant, then spoke quickly before I should regret the words and call them back.

"Mary, darling," I said, "there's something odd—and difficult—I want to ask you before we begin our study today. Do you mind?"

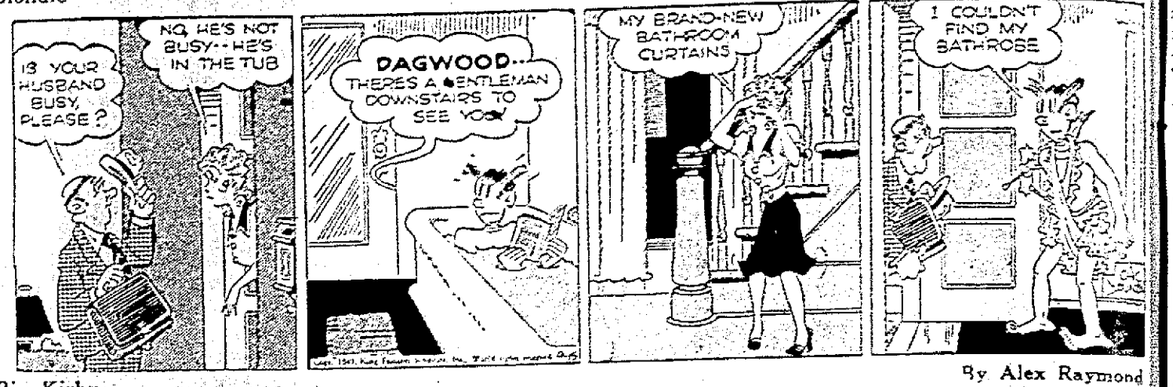
Blondie — By Chic Young

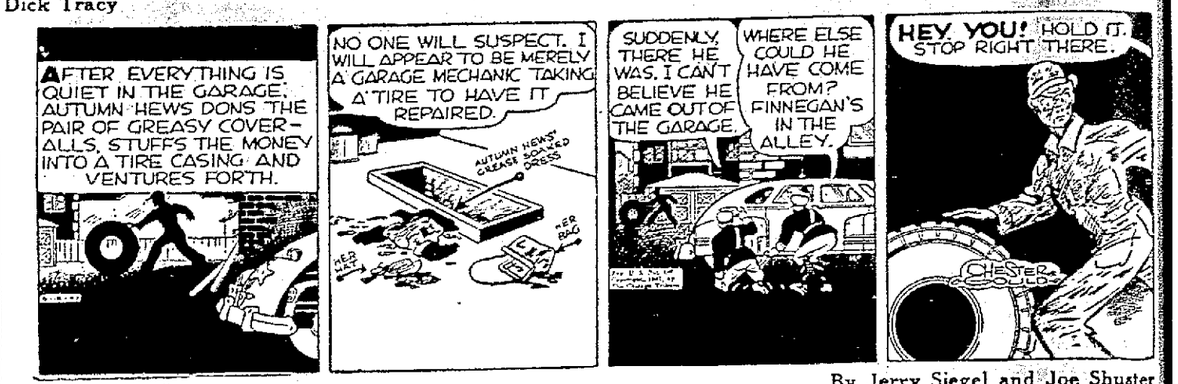


IS YOUR HUSBAND BUSY, PLEASE?
NO, HE'S NOT BUSY--HE'S IN THE TUB
DAGWOOD... THERE'S A GENTLEMAN DOWNSTAIRS TO SEE YOU
MY BRAND-NEW BATHROOM CURTAINS
I COULDN'T FIND MY BATHROBE

Rip Kirby — By Alex Raymond

LET'S SCRAM! WE GOTTA GET OFF THIS ISLAND!
I'LL BE WITH YOU IN A MINUTE... I'VE SOME SCORES TO SETTLE FIRST!
SO SHE CALLED YOU "OLD UGLY," DID SHE? WOULD YOU LIKE TO TALK BACK?
FIRST I TWIST YOUR HEAD... THERE! NOW YOU'RE READY TO STRIKE!
HEY! WHAT'S THE BIG IDEA?

Dick Tracy — By Chester Gould

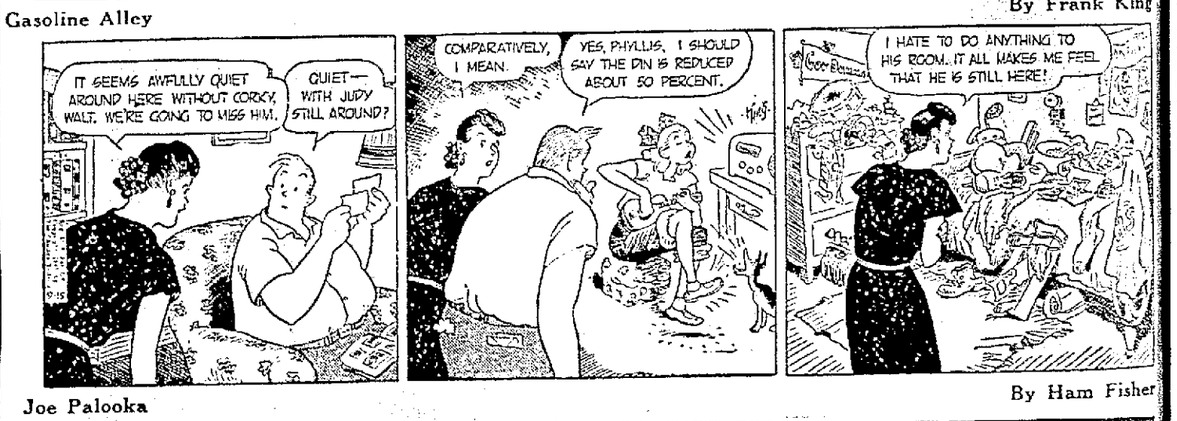


AFTER EVERYTHING IS QUIET IN THE GARAGE, AUTUMN HEWS DONS THE PAIR OF GREASY COVER-ALLS, STUFFS THE MONEY INTO A TIRE CASING AND VENTURES FORTH.
NO ONE WILL SUSPECT. I WILL APPEAR TO BE MERELY A GARAGE MECHANIC TAKING A TIRE TO HAVE IT REPAIRED.
AUTUMN HEWS' GREASE SOAKED DRESS
SUDDENLY, THERE HE WAS. I CAN'T BELIEVE HE CAME OUT OF THE GARAGE.
WHERE ELSE COULD HE HAVE COME FROM? FINNEGAN'S IN THE ALLEY.
HEY YOU! HOLD IT. STOP RIGHT THERE.
CHESTER GOULD

Superman — By Jerry Siegel and Joe Shuster

SETTING FIRE TO THIS CRUDE OIL GIVES ME A PERFECT SMOKE PEN FOR DRAWING BLACK LINES IN THE SKY.
THE FASTEST SKY WRITING I EVER SAW!
WHY— I KNOW THAT FACE. I SAW IT IN TH' PAPERS!
LOOK— THAT'S HIM!
THE FACE IN THE SKY— LOOK!
GREAT SCOTT! I'VE HAD PUBLICITY IN MY TIME— BUT NOT LIKE THIS! I CAN'T WALK A STEP WITHOUT CAUSING A SENSATION! WHAT'S UP, I WONDER?

Gasoline Alley — By Frank King



IT SEEMS AWFULLY QUIET AROUND HERE WITHOUT CORKY, WALT. WE'RE GOING TO MISS HIM.
QUIET— WITH JUDY STILL AROUND?
COMPARATIVELY, I MEAN.
YES, PHYLLIS, I SHOULD SAY THE DIN IS REDUCED ABOUT 50 PERCENT.
I HATE TO DO ANYTHING TO HIS ROOM. IT ALL MAKES ME FEEL THAT HE IS STILL HERE!

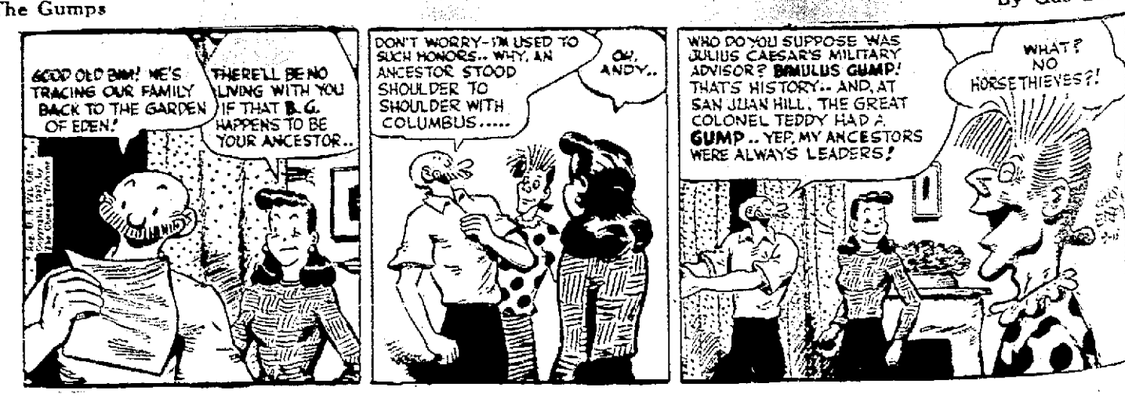
Joe Palooka — By Ham Fisher

LOOK! IT'S JOE PALOOKA
I'M GONNA GET HIS AUTAGRAPH.
WHAT TIME DOES MISS FOWLER GO ON?
SIGH
I SAID WHAT TIME DOES MISS FOWLER SING?
HUH... OH... UH... AT 12:30

Terry and the Pirates — By George Wunder

DOLLY, PAT! WHEN YOU WERE BEING WHIMSICAL ABOUT LEAVING THE DOORS OF SOO'S HIDEOUT OPEN SO THE GHOSTS COULD LEAVE, I WAS AFRAID YOU'D SUGGEST YOU KNEW I'D FOUND BENINE HIDING IN THAT CORNER.
IT WASN'T HARD TO FIGURE— MY MEN FOUND A ROOM WITH HER STUFF STILL SCATTERED AROUND. ALSO, YOU SOUNDED DOWNRIGHT UNCONVINCING WHEN YOU CLAIMED THE PART OF THE ROOM YOU WERE SEARCHING WAS EMPTY.
I'M SORRY, PAT. I HAD TO DO IT— SHE HAD KILLED BOB TO STOP HIM FROM VENTILATING ME... BUT... FOR THE LUNA PETE! THEN YOU DELIBERATELY LEFT THAT WAREHOUSE UNGUARDED AND WIDE OPEN, TO INSURE THAT SHE DID ESCAPE!
IN MY MORE GALLANT MOMENTS, I CAN SYMPATHIZE WITH A PAL WHO LETS A PRETTY FELON ESCAPE... BUT IF YOU GENTS WILL BOTH FOLLOW SO I CAN WRITE MY RESIGNATION, I'LL BE ABLE TO DO IT MUCH BETTER AS A PRIVATE, ITINERANT CIVILIAN.

The Gumps — By Gus Edson



GOOD OLD SIM! HE'S TRACING OUR FAMILY BACK TO THE GARDEN OF EDEN!
THERE'LL BE NO LIVING WITH YOU IF THAT B.C. HAPPENS TO BE YOUR ANCESTOR..
DON'T WORRY— I'M USED TO SUCH HONORS.. WHY, AN ANCESTOR STOOD SHOULDER TO SHOULDER WITH COLUMBUS.....
OH, ANDY..
WHO DO YOU SUPPOSE WAS JULIUS CAESAR'S MILITARY ADVISOR? BMULUS GUMP! THAT'S HISTORY.. AND, AT SAN JUAN HILL, THE GREAT COLONEL TEDDY HAD A GUMP.. YEP, MY ANCESTORS WERE ALWAYS LEADERS!
